

Happenings on the Pacific Slope.

SEATTLE IS IN DANGER.

Fear of Water Famine Continues in Northern City.

Schools Closed, Residence Section "Dry" Already.

Town in Darkness, Transportation Lines Hampered.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SEATTLE (Wash.) Nov. 20.—Another storm began to blow from the Pacific today, carrying great masses of mist which will be precipitated over Western Washington tomorrow. The rainfall today was light and the rivers full materially, but 75 per cent of the precipitation in Western Washington is at night and the weather bureau gives no reason to believe that the end of the flood is in sight.

If the rain should stop, the railroads would get their tracks clear and their bridges repaired in two days. The roads have all their trackmen at work with steam shovels and pile drivers. There are no trains between Seattle and Bellingham, Wash., and Tacoma, B. C. The interurban to Everett is running, but the Seattle-Tacoma interurban was closed down today by washouts. Trains to Portland get through with little delay and all the great Northern, Northern Pacific and Milwaukee transcontinental trains are routed by way of Vancouver, Wash., and the Columbia River.

FAMINE IS NO JOKE. Seattle's water famine, at first a subject of jest, has now become alarming. All of Seattle's principal residential section is deprived of water. The schools are closed and hospitals, apartment-houses and fashionable homes on the hills are without water and steam heat. Water is being hoisted to the hotels and hospitals in small department wagons. Private households can catch the water in buckets from the reservoirs, which will last a few days supply for the downtown district. Mayor Dillingham has requested manufacturers to discontinue the use of city water.

The water in the reservoirs will last three days and the City Engineer predicts that before the expiration of that time the pipe line from Cedar River will be repaired. Orders were given today for the laying of pipe to connect the old Lake Washington pumping station with the low service mains. This plant has not been used for years and is inadequate to supply the city, but would be of great value in case of fire in the downtown district.

STREETS ARE DARK. Seattle's streets were dark tonight. The city had arranged with the power company to use their surplus current for the city's circuits. To handle the surplus and the city's emergency plant into service, but the city officials stated that this required the use of much water, and ordered the street lights shut down, preferring to use the city's water for the use of any street light could be saved for emergency.

At Nelson, a prosperous coal town twelve miles up the Cedar River from the business section is entirely without water and twice yesterday the residents, hearing rumors that the big Cedar River dam had gone out, rushed to the surrounding hills.

The town of McMillan, fourteen miles from Tacoma, is threatened by the Pullman River, which is cutting a new channel for itself at the rate of two feet an hour.

ORGANIZATION. An organization of tribes sought to organize and protect claims against the Government.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. PUEBLOTON (Or.) Nov. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Umatilla, Cayuse and Walla Walla tribes on the lower reservation are today trying to do their part in the formation of a confederacy of North American Indians. A subscription paper is being circulated among the members to raise funds to defray the expenses of a delegation from each tribe to a conference to be held in Washington, D. C., on December 4, and probably the election for choosing representatives will be held this week.

Lee Moorhouse, former Indian agent, has been asked to assist the Indians by Richard C. Allen, the Delaware fall blood Indian, of Spokane, who is promoting a proposed organization. As expressed by him, the purpose of the organization is to protect the rights of the Indians and to secure recognition of the claims which various tribes and individuals have against the Government.

OREGON COUNTRY HOME. HARRIMAN PLACE IS SOLD. BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES. KAMATH FALLS (Or.) Nov. 20.—A very important real estate transaction has just taken place in Klamath Falls, at the north end of Klamath Lake. The country home of the late E. J. Harriman, who has sold the place to C. E. Worden of this city, is the Harriman home. The place is said to have led to the famous Harriman marriage. The Harriman Lodge and the town of Klamath Falls were founded by the Harrimans. The sum of $115,000 Tuesday night was paid to the estate man in this city.

REFUSAL TO DISMISS. NEW INDICTMENTS STAND. BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Superior Judge Frank H. Dunn refused today to dismiss a number of indictments pending against Abe Ruef in the political case, who was charged with the San Francisco graft case. Judge Dunn's decision was a surprise, as it was believed that the indictments would be made again.

STATE GIVES EMPLOYMENT.

Shiftless Father at Sacramento to Feel Effect of New Statute.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SACRAMENTO, Nov. 20.—Edward Westlake was sentenced today to two years confinement in the County Jail today by Judge Hughes as a "lazy father." In imposing sentence the court was specific in reading the language of the code, in view of the fact that the labor of one "lazy father" has been questioned by the District Attorney on the ground that it was not public work. The Sheriff was ordered to put Westlake to work on public roads or highways or other public work. The law under which Westlake was sentenced provides that a husband or father who fails to provide for his family may be made to do so by confinement in the County Jail. He shall then be put to work on public work for the county and paid $1.50 a day, the money to go for the maintenance of his family.

MADE PUBLIC. LA FOLLETTE AND DIRECT PRIMARY. GOV. JOHNSON OUT FOR WISCONSIN MAN.

Formal Statement Issued at State Capital Favors Insurgent Candidate for President and Declaring that People Should Have Right to Make Their Choice at Primaries.

BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES. SACRAMENTO, Nov. 20.—Gov. Johnson came out squarely for La Follette for President and a direct Presidential primary in a formal statement, issued today. Declaring that the State of California in 1905 gave the party in power full right to send a solid delegation for La Follette, the Governor indicated that he was sacrificing politics to principle and would insist that the people be given the right to name their first-hand their choice for President.

He pointed out that the fact that Taft had favored San Francisco in its fight for the exposition might swing the voters of that city in Taft's favor. But even in the face of this possibility and with the joker in the law designed to perpetuate the power of the old Southern Pacific machine, the insurgents would still insist on a direct Presidential preference primary, he said.

"The progressives of the Republican party," said the Governor, "are in control of that party's machinery, and they can, by simply obeying the law which was enacted in their opponents, send a solid delegation to the national Republican convention for Senator Robert M. La Follette.

"The State of California is whether the progressive Republicans of the State with this power, given by a machine law, which by poetic justice holds the State in its own power, should take affirmative action and should enact another and a definite law, which would yield the advantage they possess.

"In every State in the Union where the reactionaries are in control, and the people are demanding a direct primary for President, the reactionaries stolidly and defiantly deny that primary. The only States in the Union where a Presidential preference primary is accorded are in progressive States, where progressives are in control.

"While the power is today absolutely in the hands of the progressives of the State of California, the progressive Republicans of the State are big enough to be just, and believing it is but just that every elector in the State in 1912 be given the opportunity to express his preference for President, and that every woman, admitted now to the same rights politically as men, should have that right, too, the progressive Republicans yield the advantage that was appropriated by the machine and wrested from the machine by a great political revolution, and will submit to the people a primary for the expression of Presidential preference.

"This is done, too, in the face of the fact that the State of California is a fictitious quantity that may be injected into the campaign next year in the city of San Francisco and in the adjacent territory, has been insisted by many that designing politicians and designing newspapers will endeavor to take into politics the Panama-Pacific Exposition, to use that exposition and its fair fame and the deep affection in which it is held by the people of San Francisco, in behalf of the present Executive of the nation. Even were we to know that this would happen, nevertheless we should still insist upon a Presidential preference primary."

CANNED IN BIG STACK. Niles Plumber Hates Merry Row When He Leaves Fellow Workmen Have Overlooked Him.

BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES. NILES (Cal.) Nov. 20.—While it is no unusual thing for an employee to be "canned" in a figurative way, Nell Albert, a plumber, has had the novel experience of meeting this term in its literal sense.

Albert was clenching rivets inside the chimney of a new factory. The man on the outside was called away, and another set of mechanics, who did not know that Albert was inside, came on the scene and proceeded to rivet a rain protector over the top of the stack, leaving him without escape at either end.

Albert was the thunder of the hammers died away, the prisoner pounded frantically on the iron until he got the attention of the canning party. A cold chisel was then passed through a slit in the protector, and Albert cut his way out, delivering in the meanwhile smoking comments relative to the intelligence of his canners.

BOARD HOLDS UP PAY.

Construction Company of San Francisco Asks Supreme Court to Grant It Relief.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—The Rieken-Ehrhart Engineering Construction Company of San Francisco filed in the State Supreme Court today a petition for a writ of review directed against the State Board of Control and the State Engineering Department.

The petition sets forth that the petitioner was awarded a contract to construct a building on the State Normal School grounds at San Jose, and to install certain machinery. Another clause specified that the work was to be done in sixty working days and that for every day delay the contracting company was to be penalized $15.

The petition states that the State Engineering Department failed to furnish the machinery, and that in consequence the company was penalized a total of $3270.

It is in the power of the Supreme Court to order a rehearing or to direct the Board of Control to refund the money withheld.

WIDOW LOSES CONTEST. After Four Years of Litigation Mrs. Wempe Falls to Get Part of Wempe Millions.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—The four-year struggle of Mrs. Mary Wempe to gain through the courts a share of the millions of Gerhard Wempe, a local capitalist, and of his brother, William Wempe, for herself and her children, ended in defeat today when Superior Judge James M. Trout decided that the widow failed to prove her contention that her late husband was a partner in the business in question. The woman asserted that Henry Wempe, Sr., father of her husband, started a business in Oakland, that since has become one of the biggest enterprises of its kind on the Coast. After the death of Henry Wempe, Sr., the three sons took up the management of the business. The contention of the contestants was that Henry Wempe was indigent at the time of his death, and that Henry L. Wempe merely was an employee of the box company.

ATTORNEYS ARE FINED. Judge Sturtevant of Sacramento Invokes Rule Designed to Prevent Trifling Technicalities.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Attorney A. L. Shinn of San Francisco and C. C. Shinn of Los Angeles were fined $100 each for failing to appear in court to defend the first to feel the enforcement of rule No. 46 of the Superior Courts, when Judge George A. Sturtevant imposed a joint fine of $10 and ordered that if the fine is paid within ten days they may file an answer in the action of Belle Thompson and others against A. L. Shinn.

Rule No. 46 provides a fine of $10 for any attorney at the bar who files a demurrer on trivial grounds for the purpose of gaining time. Shinn, as his own attorney, and with his brother, associated, demurred to the Thompson suit to recover damages. The matter was not considered of sufficient importance for either of the defendants to appear in court. Judge Sturtevant overruled the demurrer.

Fatal Fall Down a Shaft. STOCKTON, Nov. 20.—[By A. P. Day Wire.] While repairing a building on El Dorado street this morning, a Zimmmerman carpenter, fell into an elevator shaft and sustained injuries from which he died an hour later at the emergency hospital. The building was unoccupied and the shaft was partially concealed by rubbish. He was 25 years old, and is survived by a widow and two children.

Farmer Is Incarcerated. STOCKTON, Nov. 20.—[By A. P. Day Wire.] Richard M. Beswick, a farmer living near Lathrop, met a horrible death at an early hour yesterday morning when the house he occupied was destroyed by fire. It is thought that Beswick, while intoxicated, attempted to carry a lighted lamp from one room to another, and dropped it. The position of the charred body indicated that the man made little or no effort to escape. He was without family and lived alone.

Drowned on State Farm. STOCKTON, Nov. 20.—[By A. P. Day Wire.] While attempting to cross a slough on a narrow board, Clarence Hildebrand, an inmate of the State Hospital, fell into the water and was drowned yesterday at the State Hospital. The body was found floating from the shallow water last night by an employee of the hospital. Hildebrand was committed from Kings county, and has relatives residing there.

Raise in Price of Beer. SACRAMENTO, Nov. 20.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The price of beer next year may be affected by the high price which hops are bringing this season, and the Court also will have something to do with a possible increase in the price of the beverage to the retailer. It is not thought the price to the consumer will be higher. Hops have just reached 45 cents per pound. This price was paid in Oregon Saturday and local dealers expect to get offers of 45 cents in a day or two.

DIVORCE BRINGS FAVOR. Descendant of Wealthy Glenn County Land Owner Resumes Maiden Name and Family Rejoices.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By the decree of divorce granted to Mrs. Hope G. Argaal Saturday in Colusa, the granddaughter of one of California's greatest bonanza farmers became again Miss Hope Glenn and the prospective heiress of great wealth. Her grandfather, Dr. Hugh Glenn, formerly owned the greater part of what is now Glenn county. One of his wheat fields contained 50,000 acres.

On the elopement of Miss Glenn from a fashionable Berkeley school in 1903 to marry Frank L. Argaal, a student at the University of California, she fell under the displeasure of her family and her allowance was cut off. Her husband, whose charming manners and fine voice had made him a great favorite at church entertainments and social functions, left the State three years ago with the police looking for him to answer to a charge of embezzlement. The deserted wife was received with favor by her family and her allowance restored. Miss Glenn now is on her way to New York accompanied by her niece, Miss Nancy Glenn, who will attend school in the East.

USUALLY ONE DOSE ENDS INDIGESTION.

Heartburn, Gas, Dyspepsia and Sourness Vanish and Your Stomach Will Feel Fine.

If your meals don't sit comfortably, or you feel bloated after eating, and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eructations of sour, undigested food and acid, heartburn, brash or a belching of gas, you can make up your mind that you need something to stop food fermentation and cure indigestion.

To make every bite of food you eat aid in the nourishment and strength of your body, you must rid your stomach of poisons, excessive acid and stomach gas, which sours your entire meal—interferes with digestion and causes so many sufferers of Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Bilio-nousness, Constipation, Griping, etc. Your case is no different—you are a stomach sufferer, though you may call it by some other name; your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diaphepsin will cost fifty cents at any Pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer five minutes after taking a single dose that Fermentation and Sour Stomach is causing the misery of indigestion.

No matter if you call your trouble Catarrh of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that a certain cure is waiting at any drug store the moment you decide to begin its use.

Pape's Diaphepsin will regulate any out-of-order Stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly, without any fuss or discomfort, all of any kind of food you eat.

KEEPS ESTATE INTACT. Help of Millionaire Glenn County Ranchman Buys and Pays for 13,355 Acres of Land.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. WILLOWS (Cal.) Nov. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Thomas Talbot Anderson, a 15-year-old boy and one of the heirs to the Talbot estate, has purchased 13,355 acres of the estate and paid therefor $160,000. Young Anderson is a grand nephew of J. R. Talbot, millionaire ranchman of Glenn county, who died several years ago and left a large estate. It is the desire of the young man, who is attending Belmont Military Academy, to keep intact the vast estate of his grand uncle.

SLOPE BRIEFS. Farming With Explosives. SAN JOSE, Nov. 20.—[By A. P. Day Wire.] Dynamite as a farmer's delight will be demonstrated on Guy Smith's Mountain View, by Guy W. Smith, next Wednesday in the presence of many agricultural guests, who will learn the Smith method of making arid land fertile by means of the explosive. The consequent breaking of the hard crust allows the absorption of water, according to Smith, and the soil becomes more fertile. The experiments of a year ago are said to have shown extraordinary results.

Two Killed and Twelve Injured in Strange Series of Accidents About the City. BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SAN JOSE (Cal.) Nov. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the most remarkable series of accidents which have occurred in San Jose and vicinity in years, twelve persons were hurt and two people killed.

The first accident was on Thursday, when Mrs. Z. Spingola was run down and killed by an automobile driven by Miss Clara Simpson, a student.

The last happened last night, when D. H. Ross, automobile painter, ran head-on into a Japanese cyclist on North First street, killing the Jap instantly.

Late Saturday M. Pearson and M. R. Daly were thrown from their machine on Mission San Jose Hill and landed forty feet away in a ploughed field when a wheel collapsed. They returned home today. Daly is rather badly hurt.

Heyman Marx, a junk dealer, has a broken back as the result of his horse and wagon going over a grade at Saratoga. Salvatore Santobello suffered a fractured skull in a street-car collision. Grand old man, 70, had skull fractured in an automobile smash-up on the Alviso road, and Anton Pichetti was badly hurt when his rig went over a grade near Los Gatos.

Every hospital in San Jose has one or more victims of the series of mishaps, and the Court also will have something to do with a possible increase in the price of the beverage to the retailer. It is not thought the price to the consumer will be higher. Hops have just reached 45 cents per pound. This price was paid in Oregon Saturday and local dealers expect to get offers of 45 cents in a day or two.

ASK CONGRESS FOR BUILDING.

People of Globe Raise Money for the Site.

Toss of Coin Decides Nomination for Assessor.

Southern Pacific to Change Its Time at Yuma.

GLOBE (Ariz.) Nov. 20.—The citizens of Globe have shown their public spirit by paying $15,000 to George R. Hill for a site for a Federal building in the city. It is now proposed to energetically move upon Congress to the end that sufficient appropriation be secured for a building to house the postoffice and other local Federal institutions.

An extension of the Arizona Eastern Railroad is being surveyed from Miami to the Inspiration mine, where the utmost activity prevails. It is expected that the Inspiration Company within a few months will commence the erection of a concentration mill even larger than that of the Miami Company.

A few months ago a split in the Democratic party caused the publication of two daily papers, each of them called the Daily Globe. When the muddle was taken to court it was decided that the name of the company in which the principal stockholder is understood to be G. W. P. Hunt, now Democratic nominee for governor of the State of Arizona, should be changed to the Globe Democrat. On Thursday the Globe Democrat terminated its brief existence by merger with the Silver Belt, the city's oldest newspaper, established by Judge A. H. Hackney in 1876.

Two divorces granted this week in the local District Court were remarkable for similarity. Grace J. Burns was divorced from Ralph L. Burns and Alvin McDonald from Joseph McDonald. The grounds in each case were non-support and desertion. Both plaintiffs are 26 years old, both married on the same day, a couple of years ago at Miami, where both had been waitresses in restaurants where the two men were cooks.

TOSSE COIN FOR NOMINATION. By the toss of a coin, Michel Lyons has been given the Democratic nomination for County Assessor over D. R. Horon, the returning board having found that the men had been given a tie vote.

Almer G. Fisk, a fireman on the Morenci Southern Railroad, injured some time ago in a train wreck, died in the hospital at Morenci, Sunday, mainly from burns received. He was only 21 years old and had lived most of his life in Morenci.

Pima is a large town in the Gila Valley mainly populated by Mormons. It has had a branch jail, a structure of little use for years past, so the officers have transformed the calaboose into a schoolhouse, the local school being overcrowded.

The Eagle Milling Company of Tucson has purchased a tract on the Arizona Eastern Railroad at Sanford and is preparing for the erection at that point of a modern flour mill plant.

To Change Time at Yuma. TUCSON (Ariz.) Nov. 20.—The Southern Pacific Company is to change from Pacific to mountain time at Yuma, instead of at El Paso, as at present. This change will unify the time of all Arizona Northern Arizona, including Phoenix, now uses mountain time, except that the Santa Fe Railroad changes to Pacific time at Seligman. The railroad division between Denver and San Francisco time falls very near Phoenix. At Tucson, mountain time will be twenty-four minutes fast, while Phoenix time, now used, is thirty-six minutes slow. The prospective change appears to be welcomed by local business interests.

It is now estimated that the El Paso and Southwestern branch from Fairbanks will be completed through to Tucson by June, several months earlier than at first thought. A force of workmen now employed aggregates 2000 men. The whole of the El Paso and Southwestern from El Paso westward is being relaid with new and heavier steel, in preparation for the main-line traffic that is to be handled by the road into this city, here to be delivered to the Southern Pacific Company.

The Postal Telegraph Company will enter Tucson on the Southwestern grade within a couple of miles, ten miles of wire having been strung lately westward from Fairbanks. Rev. J. W. Mitchell, minister of the Christian Church in Tucson for the past year, has resigned and has accepted a call to Long Beach, Cal.

Mrs. I. E. Cummings, for five years a teacher in the Tucson schools, has accepted a position in the schools of Los Angeles, Cal.

Mine Strike Averted. HUBBARD (Ariz.) Nov. 18.—The strike of Mexican workers at Nacari has been adjusted by General Manager J. S. Williams of the Moccasin Copper Company, who has convinced the leaders that their attitude was unjust.

Last Monday, at the Copper Queen smelter at Douglas, Rosalito Arroyo, employed in a fine dust chamber, was killed in the derailment of a small car, which jumped its track, falling upon the workman.

The El Paso and Southwestern Railroad Company has modified the usual blue attire of the railroad trainmen by prescribing a uniform of olive drab, similar to those worn by officers of the United States army.

HOLD-UP IN OROVILLE. OROVILLE, Nov. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of the boldest hold-ups perpetrated in this city for some time occurred shortly before 8 o'clock Saturday morning, when C. R. Kellogg, a produce dealer for a San Francisco firm, was held up in the heart of the business section. While one of the two men stood aside, the other, through Kellogg's pockets, and retrieved him of between $60 and $80, a nickel watch, ring and pin. The Marquis placed it in Donahue's undergarment as a suspect. At the Sheriff's office two men's shoes were found in the station were found secreted in his clothing. Yesterday Mr. Kellogg made a positive identification of the two men who had held him up. Under Sheriff White, in looking over the files of prisoners, Donahue found a description of the prisoner admitted that the picture was his. Donahue has served five previous sentences in State's prison. The other members of the duo is still at large, although his description has been sent the officers in this part of the State.

TO GUARD BORDER.

TEXAS RANGERS ARE ORDERED TO BORDER.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] AUSTIN (Tex.) Nov. 20.—At the request of the Sheriff of Cameron county, who reported it was his information that a party of alleged revolutionists would attempt to cross the border into Mexico at Brownsville, Gov. Colquhoun ordered out a company of State militia stationed at Brownsville tonight to assist the county authorities in enforcing the neutrality laws. A detachment of State rangers has also been ordered to Brownsville.

A later dispatch from Brownsville reported that the State troops had responded to the call and were working in conjunction with the county officials. Asst. Atty.-Gen. Lane has informed the Governor that the State militia and rangers are vested with ample authority under the laws of Texas to seize arms being accumulated in time of peace when circumstances indicate threatening movements against friendly powers or neighbors.

AMERICAN TROOPS ON MOVE; REYES ARRAIGNED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Nov. 20.—The movement of United States troops to the Mexican border, in connection with a rising said to be imminent, has centered on Laredo because that place is reported to be the most important just now as an outlet for supplies and munitions of war.

Gen. Duncan, commanding the Department of Texas, said today that enough troops would be held in readiness to meet any emergency. Gen. Bernardo Reyes, arrested in San Antonio Saturday on a charge of violating the neutrality laws of the United States, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Edwards today, on a new warrant which also charges that Reyes is a fugitive from justice in the southern district of Texas. According to its usual custom, the board of trustees then went over the books and found the accounts of the secretary and treasurer correct.

STRIKE CAUSES KILLING. Nephew of Mrs. Potter Palmer and Mrs. Frederick Grant Is Stabbed to Death by Unionist.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SEDALIA (Mo.) Nov. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Following an argument about some trouble between strikers and independent workmen, John Luther Jones, a striking carman, stabbed to death A. M. Mackey, owner of a taxicab and carriage company here, this afternoon. Mackey's right hand was almost severed in attempting to ward off the blow. A wound in the lung caused his death.

AMERICAN OFFICERS MAKE BIG CAPTURE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Determined to stamp out filibustering expeditions against Mexico, Secretary of War Simson authorized Gen. Duncan, commanding the department of Texas, today to move the troops under his command within divided limits without waiting orders from the department and informed Gen. Duncan he would not lack for all the cavalry and infantry needed to prevent the organization of expeditions against Mexico. No additional troops have yet been ordered to Texas, however.

Secretary Simson received a telegram today from Gen. Duncan that Maj. Hagedorn, commanding a battalion of the Twenty-third Infantry, had captured at Laredo, Juan Merigo, a captain and two privates of a company organized there for revolutionary service in Mexico.

All this is being done, it is said, because President Taft believes the American people should give the Mexicans a fair chance to free their own government without interference.

REYES GIVES BIG BOND. ON CONSPIRACY CHARGE. SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Nov. 20.—[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Nov. 20.—Troop I, Third Cavalry, Capt. George B. Corney commanding, left San Antonio at 9 o'clock tonight for Laredo to patrol the Texas-Mexican border. Troop I will arrive in Laredo early tomorrow morning.

Local Spanish newspapers published extras today after Gen. Reyes had been arraigned before United States Commissioner Edwards and given a $10,000 bond for his appearance on a charge of violating the neutrality laws, and conspiring against a friendly nation. The papers charged the evidence against Gen. Reyes had been manufactured in order to discredit him with his supporters.

Gen. Reyes was cited to appear before the Federal Court at Galveston at a date to be fixed later. The indictment charges that Reyes, Amador Sanchez, Antonio Magallon, Jose Sanchez and Severo Villareal, on November 11, 1911, "purchased and acquired 1000 rifles, 20,000 rounds of ammunition, 100 horses, 45 saddles and a large number of blankets and other equipment and supplies, which said arms, ammunition, horses, saddles, supplies and equipment were purchased and obtained, and are now in possession of Gen. Bernardo Reyes and the four others, to be used to carry on a military expedition from the United States against the republic of Mexico."

The indictment was found on the testimony of eleven witnesses who appeared before the grand jury.

Sacramento Unionites Short in Cash for Los Angeles.

Over Ninety Per Cent. Fail to Give Aid to Strikers.

Charges of Graft Are Vigorously Denied by Officers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SACRAMENTO, Nov. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Further investigation into the status of the Los Angeles strike assessment levied against the various trade unions of this city was made at a meeting today of the board of trustees of the Building Trades Council.

The secretaries of the various unions had been summoned to appear before the trustees at this meeting, but only four were represented. As an outcome of the conference, the secretaries of the various unions will be instructed to collect the back assessments and the unionists will be given until January 1 in which to pay the same.

More than 90 per cent. of the unionists have failed to pay the sixty-seven assessments, amounting to 25 cents each, levied against them, according to the records of the Building Trades Council, and none of the secretaries present were able to show where any money paid by them to the financial secretary of the Building Trades Council had not been duly credited.

Charles Rutzen, member of the board of trustees, stated today that any rumors to the effect that an investigation was being made on account of graft charges against any of the officials were entirely unfounded.

He said that Financial Secretary Booth of the Building Trades Council tendered his resignation a week ago Thursday. According to its usual custom, the board of trustees then went over the books and found the accounts of the secretary and treasurer correct.

STRIKE CAUSES KILLING.

Nephew of Mrs. Potter Palmer and Mrs. Frederick Grant Is Stabbed to Death by Unionist.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SEDALIA (Mo.) Nov. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Following an argument about some trouble between strikers and independent workmen, John Luther Jones, a striking carman, stabbed to death A. M. Mackey, owner of a taxicab and carriage company here, this afternoon. Mackey's right hand was almost severed in attempting to ward off the blow. A wound in the lung caused his death.

THREE GO TO CHAIR.

OSBURNING (N. Y.) Nov. 20.—Three murderers were put to death by electricity at dawn today in Sing Sing. They were Pietro Faletto of Millington, Frank Schermerhorn of Millington, and Bert J. Brown of Ives. They went to the chair in that order. The executions lasted only twenty-three minutes. It was the first triple electrocution at Sing Sing since the electric current superseded the gallows in New York State. Twenty years ago four murderers paid the death penalty at one time by hanging.

CATCH THE SCORCHERS.

OAKLAND, Nov. 20.—The loan of a touring car and a woman's intrepid driving enabled two patrolmen to chase down yesterday and capture a pair of scorching motorcycleists who had greeted commands to halt with loud, coarse laughter. "Jump into my car," said the fair chauffeur, who saw the incipient as she was passing. The officers hopped in and a moment later the speedometer was marking the sixty-mile mark. At the end of thirty-five blocks, the cyclists surrendered. They were Otto Young, a chauffeur, and Lesie Lansing, a maid, who were booked at the city prison for exceeding the speed limit.

MAID TESTIFIES.

REDWOOD CITY, Nov. 20.—Margaret L. Behrmann, Mrs. Lillian Moore's maid, was the principal witness at the hearing today in the divorce action brought by Mrs. Moore against J. J. Moore. The maid testified to having witnessed numerous family quarrels, but saw no actual violence, except once, when Mrs. Moore accused her spouse with a club. Dr. W. C. Childster, called for the plaintiff, testified that he had been called at one time to treat Mrs. Moore for several bruises and abrasions.

ARGUE OVER EVIDENCE.

State Will Try to Show Clear Motive for Murder in Second Trial of Dr. Hyde.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] KANSAS CITY, Nov. 20.—Arguments defining the boundaries of the testimony to be permitted at the second trial of Dr. B. Clark Hyde for the alleged murder of Col. Thomas H. Swope occupied most of the time of the afternoon session of the case today, and when adjournment was taken tonight Senator Reed, who is assisting the prosecution, had not finished the State's opening statement.

Sensor Reed was interrupted in his statement when he said the prosecution intended to prove by new evidence that Dr. Hyde had also poisoned Christian Swope, brother of Mrs. Hyde and nephew of the aged colonel. Frank P. Welsh, for the defense, argued against the admission of such testimony. The State, in attempting to show that Christian Swope was poisoned, is trying to establish that Dr. Hyde had a general scheme by which he planned to destroy the entire Swope family and thus divert the great Swope fortune to his wife as the only remaining heir.

The Missouri Supreme Court, in reversing the verdict of guilty found against Dr. Hyde at the first trial, declared the testimony introduced at the first trial inadmissible. It is shown by the evidence that arguments on the admission of testimony regarding Christian Swope were not concluded until January 1 in which to pay the same.

More than 90 per cent. of the unionists have failed to pay the sixty-seven assessments, amounting to 25 cents each, levied against them, according to the records of the Building Trades Council, and none of the secretaries present were able to show where any money paid by them to the financial secretary of the Building Trades Council had not been duly credited.

TELL OF VALLIER KILLING.

REDDING, Nov. 20.—W. W. Reese, a mining man, and Mrs. John E. Reynolds of Redding, testified for the State today in the trial of Daniel Fleming, accused of the murder of George Vallier.

Reese testified that he arrived at the station after Goble had been taken from the top of the car. Witness saw Fleming and heard by Mrs. Reynolds say: "The boys have been drunk and fighting."

Vallier was bleeding, and unconscious. Reese said that Fleming was not unduly rough in handling Vallier.

Mrs. Reynolds said that she saw a man standing on the roof of the Pullman and also saw a person she believed to be a porter hanging on the side of the car. She said she saw two men, one in uniform, walking toward the front of the train. She could not identify them.

At the request of Dist. Atty. Brannard, the jury was excused while the prosecution argued the admissibility of evidence to be offered by the State, said to be that one of the men in question heard by Mrs. Reynolds to call the other, "Why did you hit him?"

The other one was said to have replied, "I didn't hit him; it was the other fellow."

Judge Barber ruled that the proposed evidence was not admissible. The prosecution temporarily closed its case late today, stipulating that two additional witnesses who are now in question heard by Mrs. Reynolds to call the other, "Why did you hit him?"

CONFESSIONS TO ROBBERY.

GRAND RAPIDS (Mich.) Nov. 20.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] According to the Grand Rapids police tonight, Percy B. McClelland, a former employee of the Adams Express Company, has confessed to the robbery of the express company's safe at the depot Sunday night. Detectives today recovered $1765 in currency and checks at his home.

Little Stories About A Big Bank—No. 4

A Reporter on one of our City Newspapers found himself getting weary under the strain.

He was approaching forty-five, less active than formerly; and the hard life and irregular hours were beginning to tell upon him.

In receipt of a good salary, he had spent it freely—as most Newspaper Men do. All he had to show for twenty years experience was a good reputation, a scrap book of newspaper clippings—and a job that was not secure.

At least, such was the conclusion he reached one night upon "taking account of stock" after Mrs. Reporter and the children had gone to bed.

A Savings Account with this Bank was the first result of this "sizing up" of the situation. Then came a taking of the Wife and Youngsters into his confidence—a dream of a Country Paper in a Country Town, where life went slower, but much more securely—and where home life could be a part of the scheme of things, as well as hard work.

In two years he had a Thousand Dollars. Six months later came the chance to buy in on a Country Daily—a run-down property in a good "live" town—where a Newspaper Man of real ability could build up a profitable sheet.

The Savings Deposit secured title to the property. A plan of purchase was worked out—and the Paper paid for itself in three years.

He is worth Thirty or Forty Thousand Dollars now, is the "Big Man" in his Community—helping many and a power for good. He is growing fast, and so is his Savings Account—for he still retains one with this Bank.

Here is another Wise Man, one from many, who have used this Bank and its service to better their own condition. Isn't there a lesson in his experience for you?

HARBOR PLAN FOR ARIZONA.

Proposed Purchase of Strip of Mexico's Land.

Opportunity to Open Port on Gulf of California.

Project Favored by Newly-Nominated Senators.

That Arizona expects, when it slips into the hands of Statehood, to assume a dignified, not political, position in a recent statement made by Joseph H. Cameron, Republican member for United States Senator. With the idea of having the government make Arizona a second State by opening a harbor on the Gulf of California, thereby establishing the longest deep-sea harbor to the Panama Canal, Mr. Cameron, if elected, will introduce a resolution authorizing the State Department to open negotiations with the Mexican government.

Cameron says the plan to be introduced in the proposed resolution is to purchase from Mexico a narrow strip of land on the Gulf of California, some distance below the mouth of the Colorado River, approximately on the line of the old boundary between Arizona and the Gulf of California, some distance below the mouth of the Colorado River, approximately on the line of the old boundary between Arizona and the Gulf of California.

Cameron further said that with the assistance of Hon. A. Smith, the other Republican nominee for United States Senator, he has assembled facts and figures which show how practical the proposed plan is; that he has talked with men high in the councils of the country, and they are attracted to the plan to open another big harbor for the southwestern States. In connection, Cameron said he was not at liberty at this time to speak of the details of the plan which may be developed in connection with this international proposal.

The great industries of Arizona, including mining and smelting and its numerous subsidiaries, would be largely benefited if the plan proposed by Mr. Cameron becomes a reality. In this connection it can also be said that Whitley is at present the center of one of the busiest localities in the new State. Three years ago it was a little Mexican settlement at the junction of the Gila and San Pedro Rivers, and the terminus of the Phoenix and Santa Fe branch of the Southern Pacific Railroad.

Within the period the Ray Consolidated Copper Company has built an immense concentrating plant, with a maximum capacity of 10,000 tons a day, at a cost of $2,500,000. The Ray Consolidated Copper Company, which is now employing over 1000 men in the construction of the plant, has an initial investment of $1,500,000. Within less than twelve months there has been expended at Whitley more than $5,000,000 in industrial plants for the reduction of the ore of the region.

The Southern Pacific Company has extended its branch as far as Christman, the location of the properties of the Ray Consolidated Copper Company. It will begin soon to extend the line to the Gila canyon to connect with the line at Globe, and also with the line at Bowie. This will call for an outlay of something like $2,500,000 for construction and equipment.

Ray anticipations—not to mention "the sky"—are indulged in by large investors in "these parts" who shall say that the picture is highly colored? Almost anything is possible along the pathway of the course of empire.

It is asserted that within a radius of fifty miles of this new smelting plant there are now blocked out or in sight more than 110,000,000 tons of ore.

As soon as the Southern Pacific has completed the line to San Carlos, the connected Globe with Whitley, all of these ore will be tributary to the new plant of the Guggenheim.

The amount of money already expended in the development of the properties tributary to Whitley, and in the building of roads, works and railroads running to and from the plant, are still great projects under way calling for more millions.

In addition to the $7,500,000 invested in the construction of the Ray Consolidated mill, the Guggenheim smelter and the railroad branches, the Ray Central Copper Company will build a mill of 5000 tons daily capacity at an outlay of about $1,500,000. Add to these amounts the money that will be expended upon the London-Arizona, London Range, Gila Copper Sulphide, Ray Copper Company and the London Shamrock and it will make the total aggregate ultimately between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000.

POINT LOBOS RAILROAD. Perhaps the most important project to this Whitley-Ray-Globe region is the Port Lobos Railroad, which is projected from Port Lobos to Saco, the location of the smelting works of the Imperial Copper Company; thence to Whitley, with the districts of the Yekol Copper Company and the Ajo. No enterprise has been projected in Arizona for many years which means so much to the industries of the State as this short line to tidewater. It affects the whole of Central and Southern Arizona. It advances the copper districts of Jerome, Globe, Clifton, Morenci, Ray, Christmas, London-Arizona and Bisbee; the districts that have made Arizona the first copper-producing State of the nation.

This project is favored by B. P. Cheney of Boston, who is also the controlling factor in the London-Arizona, London Range, Gila Copper Sulphide, the Imperial Copper Company and the Saco smelting works. The completion of this railroad will make all of the Cheney properties and the Saco plant will become a tributary to the plant of the American Smelting and Refining Company at Whitley.

With the completion of the Port Lobos road the Cheney properties will become self-contained, with the exception of plant to refine copper, but it is said that the management has carefully canvassed this matter, and finds it feasible because of the magnitude of the mines; and it is reasonable to expect that, later on, they will build their own refinery, possibly at Port Lobos, from which point they can reach all ports of the world by steamers plying through the Panama Canal. This would give them unparalleled facilities for distributing their refined copper to all of the markets of the world.

The American Smelting and Refining Company is now operating a steamship line between Alaska and Tacoma, and another between New York and Tampico. It owns smelting works at Tacoma and San Francisco, in addition to the new plant now under construction at Whitley, and some of the biggest smelters in Mexico. With the opening of the Panama Canal it is among the possibilities that the company will connect these steamship lines and operate them between New York and the Pacific Coast ports, including Port Lobos, and handle all of its products in its own vessels.

On the Trigger. FOOTHILL FIRE QUICKLY FOUGHT.

BLAZE MENACES WATERSHED,
BUT IS CORNERED.

Fire Fighters from Santa Monica, Serrano and Soldiers' Home Respond to Prevent Destruction of Small Ranches and Apartments. Large Area Burned in Topanga.

A fire in the foothills back of Brentwood menaced the entire watershed of Santa Monica, Serrano and the Soldiers' Home, and called out a quick response from the fire fighters. Engineer Dobbings led a force of men from the Soldiers' Home, while Santa Monica and Serrano furnished squads of experienced men.

The blaze headed for Sepulveda Canyon, which is only a step to Sullivan and Mandeville. In this vicinity are numerous wells of the water supply corporation as well as the great reservoirs which supply the Soldiers' Home. In it o these canyons there are small ranches and apartments and to save them meant quick and effective work. When night fell a calamity had been averted by confining the fire in narrow limits and having it under control.

The fire, following the disastrous one in Topanga Canyon, has renewed the efforts to discover the cause. It was reported yesterday from Topanga that two women are responsible by burning a pile of brush on the side of Calabasas peak, on Friday. A sudden wind carried a burning branch into the dry grass on the other side of the clearing where they were engaged, and in an instant the flames raced along the peak.

S. W. Chick and H. O. Wilmington, who have a 320-acre ranch in the Carbon Canyon adjoining the Jack U. Henry ranch, lost everything in the canyon fire. They were in Los Angeles when it broke out, but believe it would have been impossible to escape with their lives had they been at home. Besides their house they lost a chicken house, twelve cords of wood, fifty large oak trees and a large vegetable tract. Their grain crop had been harvested.

Chick says several of his neighbors had narrow escapes from serious injury while fighting the flames. Jack U. Henry, owner of the ranch of that name, was badly burned about the face and eyes, fighting the flames. One of his employees, an old man, saved his life by taking refuge in a canyon after his clothing had caught fire and he burned. Henry is said to have lost considerable lumber, a barn and tool house. His house was partly burned. The entire burned district is swept clean, Chick says.

The flames sweeping through Coal Canyon put several buildings on the east end of the Malibu ranch in great danger. It looked impossible at one time to save the house of the boss, but by backing the flames were turned. Frederick H. Rindge, one of the owners of the ranch, stated last night that Coal Canyon is entirely burned out. He had a gang of about fifteen hands fighting the fire.

Rindge says that the fire swept from Lee Tunes to Lee Flores Canyon and back again as the wind changed, then

Consolidation SALE Whitley Jewelry Stock

Before the consolidation of the Whitley Jewelry Company and Brock & Feagans can be finally consummated, the entire vast Whitley stock must be absolutely closed out. Fortunate it is for you that the imperative necessity for this action comes right at the time when Christmas gift problems are pressing you. Certain it is that no such Christmas gift buying opportunity has before been presented in Los Angeles. With such a house as the Whitley Jewelry Company behind this sale, its genuineness cannot be questioned.

For many years this house has enjoyed an enviable reputation for its integrity and for the quality of its merchandise. There is some satisfaction in taking advantage of special offerings when they come from a house of such standing. Don't delay your Christmas shopping. Crowds are becoming greater every day.

BRAVES DEATH FOR PETS.

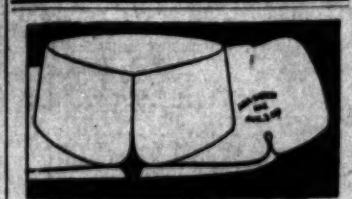

Woman Enters Burning Barn to Rescue Rabbits. Her Clothing Is Ignited, and She Is Forced to Retreat. But for the timely assistance of friends, Mrs. F. A. Livingstone, at No. 542 Estelle avenue, Hollywood, would have been seriously burned yesterday morning. Her clothes ignited when she rushed into a burning barn to rescue a large number of rabbits. The attention of other persons living in the vicinity was attracted, and the flames which had begun to consume her clothing were extinguished.

Mrs. Livingstone was working in the house when she saw smoke rising from the barn in the rear. Thinking only of her pets, she ran into the barn to open the doors of the pens and allow them to run out. The fire had gained great headway in the interior of the building, however, and she was driven back by the flames. The barn was destroyed and the rabbits' lives snuffed out. The loss was about $300.

Dry Campaign Meeting.

The Garvanzia Prohibition League will meet tonight at the Congregational Church, No. 4486 Ruby street, in the interest of the present "dry" campaign. The Garvanzia Methodist Episcopal Church will join in the meeting, and the pastors of both churches will speak. Musical selections will be given.

A dark, high-contrast image showing the fore-edge of a book. The left side features numerous thin, light-colored pages stacked vertically. The right side is a dark, solid vertical band, likely the book's cover or binding. The overall image is very dark, with the primary light source highlighting the edges of the pages.

INVESTMENTS—BUSINESS CHANGES—

[illegible]

This image is a dark, high-contrast scan of a vertical strip, likely representing the edge of a book page or a binding. The strip is illuminated from the left, creating a bright, textured line that contrasts sharply with the surrounding black area. The texture appears fibrous or layered, suggesting the material of the book's pages or cover. There are no discernible text or figures within this image.

ARMS SEIZED NEAR BORDER.

Webb County (Tex.) Sheriff Under Arrest.

Contraband Goods Found by Officers at Laredo.

Mexicans Arrive at Texas Town on Each Train.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

LAREDO (Tex.) Nov. 21.—A quantity of arms and ammunition, said to have been intended for use in a revolt against President Francisco I. Madero of Mexico, was seized in Laredo yesterday.

Sixteen rifles and a considerable amount of ammunition were found secreted within the city limits, several rifles, ammunition and cavalry trappings were found at the home of Antonio Magnon, one of the men accused in the Federal indictment returned Saturday, and fifteen horses and saddles were taken from the ranch of Pedro Sanchez, brother of the Sheriff of Webb county.

Other developments yesterday were the dispatch of a small detachment of United States troops to the Minerva coal mine, twenty-five miles from Laredo, and the release of Antonio Magnon on a bond of $5000.

Magnon is credited with having acted as a leader of the revolutionary movement in the United States.

All of those formally charged with implication in the anticipated revolt, with the exception of one, whose name has not been made public, have been arrested. Jose Sanchez and Severo Villareal, arrested Saturday, are in the hands of the authorities.

At Nuevo Laredo, across the border, a celebration was in progress last night in honor of the inauguration of the Madero revolution a year ago yesterday. Up to a late hour no disorder had occurred.

Notwithstanding the order of Gov. Colquhitt that revolutionary sympathizers leave Laredo, the local Mexican colony has not diminished in number, but, on the contrary, each train brings additional recruits.

It was reported yesterday that a printed proclamation bearing the name of Gen. Reyes and calling upon the Mexican people to overthrow the Madero government had been found among the effects of one of the men arrested Saturday. The report, however, has not been verified.

LINE WELL PATROLLED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Additional United States troops will not be ordered to the Mexican border at present, according to Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, despite the mobilization of 25,000 Mexican soldiers on the southern boundary.

Sen. Wood, when informed last night of the action taken by the Mexican War Department, was of the opinion that the United States troops now patrolling the border were sufficient to enforce properly the neutrality laws.

There are still about 4000 men to the border when the Mexican revolution reached its crisis last spring, and should these not be able to cope with the situation, said Gen. Wood, three regiments at San Antonio could be called upon.

AMERICAN HORSES WIN.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] American army officers and American-bred horses scored a triumph over all foreign competitors in a Lively Game.

By Wire to The Times Yesterday

OTTAWA (Ont.) Nov. 21.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The final official report from the Canadian general election, as filed with the government yesterday, shows a grand total of 838,813 votes cast for the Conservative party for the Liberal government of only 23,837. The Liberal government, however, has a majority of 10,000 in the House of Commons.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] A collision between a freight train and a passenger train near Los Angeles, last night, resulted in the death of a passenger and the injury of several others, according to reports to the Illinois Central Railroad office here.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Justice Sutherland of the Supreme Court ordered yesterday the removal of the federal marshal from the office of Joseph C. Williams, a leader of the "Burrhead" movement, who is charged with the murder of a federal marshal.

DETROIT, Nov. 21.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The Michigan retail dealers' association, in a letter to the Detroit Chamber of Commerce yesterday, requested the removal of the federal marshal from the office of Joseph C. Williams, a leader of the "Burrhead" movement, who is charged with the murder of a federal marshal.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The Supreme court of the United States reversed the Federal Court of Southern California, which upheld the right of the state of California to prevent the sale of lands within the limits of the Park, from driving cattle to his land through the park.

DETROIT, Nov. 21.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The government has announced that it will not prosecute the case against the firm and individuals in the Federal Court here January 26, if it is not prosecuted.

OUTLOOK IS SPLENDID.

Porterville Growers Expect Great Returns From Citrus Shipments During This Season.

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 20.—Quite the most encouraging orange season in the history of the Central California district is that of the fall of 1911, according to the returns which are being sent to the growers by the packers.

Which left this city this season between October 28 and November 7.

Yesterday the growers who shipped to the Canadian and the Denver markets shipping from this station about the first of the month, secured their checks and the returns show that they will net for their fruit a price of $2.25 per box.

Practically all of the fruit which went to the north brought in close to $3.75 and none of it reported to date has brought less than $3.40.

Although telegraph advices from the East show that the market is falling a bit during the past few days, there is nothing which indicates there is any immediate prospect of the price going below $2 net to the growers.

This is from 15 to 20 cents better than any previous season during the past five years and almost 25 cents above the average for the past six years.

According to the bulletins which have been put out by the associations of the early fruit this year was received with enthusiasm in the eastern market centers and first cars going to sale were followed by immediate telegraph orders for that could be shipped.

At the present time about 100 per cent are leaving packing-house row in this city.

FRAUDULENT REGISTRATION.
It is good to root out those who have perjured themselves in order to have a voice in the coming municipal election. It is too bad that so many of those who make the most noise in the present campaign contribute nothing whatever to the support of the city under any administration.

SIGN OF THE TIMES.
The intention of a telephone and telegraph company to remove its wires and poles from the streets of South Pasadena and place them underground is a forerunner of what is to be expected in Southern California in the near future. Countless improvements in civic beauty and economy will be inaugurated as this rapidly-growing section ages a bit.

GOING PLACES.
That Southern California boy who started for a nearby school and walked 37,000 miles without finding it is an illustration of a sadly repeated neglect of application in innumerable lives. It often happens that the brilliant college man fails where the drudge makes good. Even blind men come forward as statesmen and men of letters because they stay at home with the light they have and follow some few thoughts to the source that gives thoughts life. A soul may be full of light. It may sit at the body as the fragrance fits the flower that holds it. Yet, if the brain and the will are not applied, the life is of no effect. The world is in need of men who have some definite aim and who stick everlastingly to it.

WHERE DOES IT END?
An Amherst professor says the modern woman regards herself as her husband's companion rather than as his wife. Most persons will admit that it is a wonderful thing for husband and wife to be good friends and to have genuine comfort and delight in companionship. Marriage must often hold pain when lovers have not many common interests. A marriage, however, will not make much headway towards happiness if it is based on the companionship idea alone. College professors may talk themselves black in the face about too many children being born in poor families and about the folly of emotional relationship, but the modern woman in the end will prove too human to withstand the old-fashioned idea of love when it knocks at the door of her heart.

A NO OUTRAGE.
A society will have no sympathy with the divorcees' ball at Reno. A divorce is nothing to be proud about. The least people can do who find themselves undergoing the pain and embarrassment of attempting to free their lives from one of these tragic mistakes is to walk as softly as possible before those who also suffer from the error and before society at large. Divorce is hideous under the most warrantable circumstances. Marriage is divinely sacred and the one home of the heart, despite the social anarchists and the misfired. Let those who are miserable together separate quickly, for there is no marriage, but let them do so quietly with as little shock as possible to either party. Common decency demands as much.

GROWING IN SPOTS.
Los Angeles has a habit of breaking out in spots. Take a walk tomorrow through an unpopulated section and then return to the same community six months hence and you will find that numerous and thriving residence districts have suddenly sprung into existence. It requires many walks through the hills lying some blocks from any car line to bring a realization of how many of these prosperous and comparatively little-known suburbs the city has. Gradually the vacant places between these suburbs and the city proper are filled in and the result is a continuity of buildings for many miles. City water, gas, street cars and telephones readily follow these building enterprises and it is never long until such sections are knocking at the door of the city for admission. Very few persons know how big Los Angeles really is. The 600,000 mark for 1915 is more than modest.

WALNUTS AND WINE.
The Lancet has come out with a weighty article favoring walnuts and wine as a healthy and heartsome diet. For walnuts are especially strong in protein, and good wine contains grape sugar in its most digestible form. These form a perfect combination for nourishing and touting the human system.

"Walnuts and wine" has always been a pretty alliteration, suggestive of after-dinner toasts, a crackling of wit and humor and a sparkle of merry jests and good short stories. We are glad to know now that they have also an economic value, contrary to the habit of too many of the pleasantest things that leave a sting behind them.

We hope the Lancet will continue to sing the praises of these two articles of diet for the benefit of its British readers. And we hope, besides, the London supply houses will remember that the best walnuts and the purest brands of wine come from the sunny valleys of Southern California.

The increase in the price of tea is no doubt due to the fact that Sir Thomas Lipton needs the money to build a yacht to "lift" the cup. Sir Thomas has had quite a run of hard luck in his endeavors along that line.

Really, the Sultan's Arabs should up and Bedouin.

A PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY.
That California is to have a Presidential preference law we are now given to understand by Gov. Johnson because he (Gov. Johnson) puts principle above politics. He says the "progressives" (insurgents) simply by obeying the present law could send a solid delegation from California for La Follette, but that they do not care to benefit by the "joker" in the primary election law of 1909 and will trust the candidacy of La Follette, which candidacy Johnson espouses (seeing himself a possible tall to the Wisconsin radical kite) with much bombast, to the voters.

The Governor is "saving his face" at the expense of that rare virtue, the truth; likewise, he is saving the face of his erstwhile creator, who is suffering some of the pangs of Frankenstein now, with variations, of course.

The Lincoln-Roosevelt League's adjunct, the Direct-Primary League, presented, through its secretary, George A. Van Smith, the primary bill of 1909, which contained the "joker" about the delegates elected in 1910 providing the State Republican Convention of 1912, and it was objected to by the Senators and Assemblymen who Gov. Johnson now says put it in for the sake of promoting Taft control of the delegation next year.

The L-R's and their allies kept this "joker" in. It would not be disturbed by them now, last of all by the Governor, if it were not plain to them that they cannot control a State convention under this primary law next spring. If Lissner and Johnson could control it they would be mum; or they would furnish reasons why it would not be a good thing to consider at the special session to convene next Monday.

A year ago last September the control of the State convention by the Lissner-Johnson element was effected by a narrow margin only and because a platform had to be constructed for a runaway candidate they let him and his friends make the platform. There was nothing else to do. Since then it has become apparent that California Republicans want Taft, and that any convention assembled would declare for him and select delegates instructed for him.

Hence the Governor finds occasion to put principle above politics—or, to truthfully state it, politics above principle.

By submitting La Follette's candidacy to the people next spring the Governor and his fellow-insurgents can leave it to our old friends, Vox Populi, to further "save their faces" by declaring overwhelmingly for Taft against La Follette.

La Follette in Wisconsin led to socialism in Milwaukee.

Johnson in California is giving Los Angeles all she can do to keep out of the Social list column—though, God bless her, she will do it.

By next spring the respect and confidence of the voters in Taft and the restored fealty of tens of thousands of Republicans will sweep California for the President's re-nomination.

NOT "MINE," BUT OURS.
Let us take counsel together, good citizens of the beautiful and prosperous city of Los Angeles. Its prosperity is not mine nor yours, but it is ours. It would be just as logical and sensible in speaking of the balmy breezes of this beautiful southern climate to call it my climate or your climate; it is our climate. The skies that bend so tenderly and brightly above us are not my skies nor your skies; they are our skies. The streets of this fair city are no man's streets; they are the property of every man.

Two weeks from today it will be the duty and privilege of every legal voter in the city to cast his ballot for candidates for a city government. It is not my government nor your government; it is our government.

There is no such thing as class known among us. We have various occupations, and they are all interrelated. The banker is nothing without the mechanic employed in building the house which the banker finances. The merchant is nothing without the drayman who hauls the goods to and from the store. The greater the business the greater the reliance of the business man upon all connected with him in carrying on the enterprise. Manifestly, without the banker to furnish the money there would be no house to build, and without the merchant to establish the business in his way there would be neither clerk nor porter, book-keeper nor delivery man.

These are the considerations that should govern every voter who goes into a booth to stamp his ballot on the fifth day of December next. He should realize that he is not voting for his government, but for our government. Upon the result of that election will depend in a way both great and intimate the immediate future of the city. It will not be my future nor your future that will be settled at the polls; it will be our future.

Now our government we have in just such a government. It is made up of men from all walks of life. There are mechanics and business men and wage-earners in its ranks. There is before you a ticket composed of candidates for the various offices made up in exactly the same way. There is no class privilege, no class advantage or disadvantage involved in the election of that ticket. It is not my ticket nor your ticket; it is our ticket. If that ticket carries at the polls there will be no change wrought in the administration of the city government. Things will go on just about as they have been going. Under the administration of the past the city has been prosperous and progressive. That prosperity has not been mine nor yours; it has been ours. The future, if it is to be like the past, will be prosperous, and the prosperity will not be mine nor yours, it will be ours.

There is another ticket standing over against this one in sharply, clearly defined opposition. It is distinctly a class ticket. The appeal made for its success is founded upon class discrimination. It is not a ticket to which the people of the city generally can apply the epithet "ours." It is a ticket to which the people of certain classes may and do apply the epithet "mine." Class discriminations are a two-edged sword. If they mean advantages for one person they mean disadvantages for others. If one class is to have special privileges, that can only come through disadvantages to others.

The whole campaign of the so-called socialist ticket is carried on with the avowed purpose, not simply of allowing persons of that school of thought to conduct the affairs of the government, but to so conduct them that only members of labor unions shall have any opportunity of earning a living in this community, and that they shall be permitted, not simply to work and do things, but that no others shall have this right. As these people constitute but a very small portion of those who do things in the city it means that the vast majority of the people shall be denied the opportunities the others will monopolize. That is not only unfair and unjust, but it is unprofitable.

'What Are You Going To Do?'

We would earnestly commend the following declaration of principles made by a union labor leader to the consideration of all workers, whether they will toll with head or hands, in a large way or a small way, as union men or as independent workers:

"I do not believe in forcing a man to join a union. If he wants to join, all right; but if he does not, he should be free to work for himself. The Constitution of the United States does not say that a man shall be forced to join a union. It says that a man shall be free to work for himself. We of the engineers work willingly side by side with other engineers every day who do not belong to our union, though they enjoy without any objection on our part the advantages which we have obtained. Some of them would not have in the union; others we cannot get. What I say is, make the union so good that they will want to join."

WARREN S. STONE,
"Head of the Railroad Engineers."

THE HAZARD OF THE DIE.
Startling revelations have resulted from the sensational raids made by Chief of Police McWeeney among the fashionable homes on the north side of Chicago. Gambling, it appears, has been carried on by some of the society people of the Windy City on so large a scale that the sums exchanging hands have reached nearly into the millions.

Nor was this any mere amateur sport or comparatively innocent poker or bridge play between good friends willing and able to risk a few dollars from a sociable delight in toying with the little red, Blitzen. It was rather a cold-blooded sacrifice on the altar of the big dog, Mammon.

These lawbreakers should be prosecuted, but not under the statute that prohibits the playing of games of chance. For they were playing no such game; they were not taking any chances. They were scooping "easy marks" and "good things" from among the gilded set in Chicago and separating them from their simoleons by means of magnetic dice, stacked cards and sleight-of-hand trickery. "Sport," "game" and "chance" are words of too respectable a pedigree to be applied to such proceedings. It wasn't even gambling in the dictionary meaning of the word; it was fraudulency on the one side and dampoolery on the other.

The elf of sport and the cherub of chance are jolly little fellows courted in one form or another by every man blest with a ready wit for the tricks of fortune and a brave smile for the stratagems of fate. Without these nimble spirits we should have no intercollegiate football, no Phoenix motor races, no aeroplanes, no moonlight courtship; no fun, frolic, contests, fortunes or self-sacrifices in this kaleidoscope of life of ours. We should be as people who pass the best part of their lives in bed and show their greatest energy by the vigor of their snoring.

Sport is the zest of living and every youth when he enlists among the world's fighters is setting his life upon the cast and must stand the hazard of the die. But he has a right to demand that his competitors play the game fairly. Such degradation of sport and such elimination of chance as marked the operations of these society gamblers in Chicago need to be dealt with summarily and with an unsparring hand. This—not only for the regeneration of society as a whole, but also for fostering a spirit of honest sport and equal chances for all. For, by the plane on which it conducts its sports and by the spirit with which it faces its chances, you can pretty well average up the moral worth of a group of individuals of a city or a whole nation.

THE DRUMMER'S PROCLAMATION.

For a good while the situation has been acute and it is becoming more so every day between the tip-giver and the tip-taker. This institution (if such it may be called) is not of American origin, but an exotic, and it comes to us from Europe. Now, while Americans did not invent the scheme, they have been very instrumental in destroying its usefulness. In Europe they have increased the gratuities in a way that makes them ridiculous in the eyes of sensible people and at the same time makes the custom a nuisance to people with good sense and a short purse. The consequence is that even in the land of its birth the custom of giving tips is, as the people of part of that land say, "ausgespielt." As for Americans of the more sensible classes, they have been up in arms against the giving of tips, even in Europe, for years, and the warfare becomes more bitter every day.

If the giving of tips in Europe, where tips amount to from 5 per cent to 10 per cent of one's bill, is onerous, what shall be said in this country where they run sometimes as high as 25 per cent of one's bill? If you go into a restaurant and your bill is $1, it will be dangerous to offer the "high-toned" person who waits on you less than 25 cents. In some high-class restaurants where a man's bill comes to $5 he would not think of offering the waiter less than $1.

Now in Europe you can get a pretty good lunch for 50 cents and, if your company is composed of three persons, it amounts to $1.50 for the party. With $7.50 for your bill at gorgeous places you would be expected to give less than a franc, or 20 cents American. Indeed, a half-franc would be looked upon over there as a very liberal tip.

Well, it looks as if the end had come. Traveling salesmen, who are hardest hit by this bad custom, have declared open war against it. They say their tips in the aggregate amount to $50,000,000 a year. It is a tremendous sum and ought either to be very much reduced or done away with entirely. The latter is probably the best solution of the difficulty.

In this country there is no excuse for the custom. All servants in all sorts of establishments are paid regular wages, and usually very good wages. In Europe in similar positions the servants get either nothing or have actually to pay a bonus for the privilege of bleeding customers who patronize the establishment. There the waiters are entirely dependent. There the liberality of the public for their living. It is really a form of charity, a bad one, and encourages mendicancy. We have no beggars in this country, and do not want them, either in disguise or otherwise.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.
Said Mary, in her Moated Grange: "The life I lead has got my goat; I surely suffer for a change, and so methinks I'll have to vote. I'm tired of holding on my knees. Angora cats and dogs, I wist; I'm tired of pink and yellow tints, I'm tired of playing bridge and whist. I'm tired of reading at the clubs long papers that I got by rote; I'm tired of arguing with dubs, and so, methinks I'll have to vote. My husband's life is picturesque, no trace of ennui can I know; he merely labors at his desk, and digs up wealth for me to blow. When he was but a humble clerk, and drew the slimmest sort of pay, I used to sit at home and work, and then I sang the liveliest day. But when we prospered, and the dough came rolling in, I turned work down; I hired me servants, and would go to every jamboree in town. I haven't washed a dish in years, or stewed a prune, or swept a floor, and I am tired and wet with tears, and my poor heart is sad and sore. An idle woman's life is vain, her thoughts are oft too fierce to quote; my futile days give me a pain, and so methinks I'll have to vote."

NAUGHTY LITTLE HABITS.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.
We all acquire at least one naughty little habit that sticks to us through life. If we are fortunate enough to grow famous it becomes known as a "characteristic," but in most of us it just remains a plain, ordinary, naughty little habit.

Many of them take the form of mere fidgets. One important financial potentate here in Los Angeles, for instance, taps a pencil on the table in front of him throughout an entire interview, until his visitor becomes perfectly frantic. Another banker picks his nails all the time he is speaking to you until they actually bleed. His finger tips are raw and hideously inflamed, yet he will pick off little bits of skin here and there to emphasize every argument he wishes to drive home in a forcible business interview!

And there are whole armies of button twiddlers. One becomes absolutely fascinated watching those buttons twiddled and twiddled. The rocking-chair fidget, too, is so general that it would really seem to be a national naughtiness and passes unnoticed, but transfer the perpetual rocker to any other country and he would be put in a strait-jacket or treated for St. Vitus dance.

The British Medical Journal has recently published a long article in which it declares that children should be encouraged to fidget, as this form of activity stimulates the brain. This is evidently why Americans are such a bright nation—but what a horrible price to pay!

Then there are the sniffers. These are by no means peculiar to America. Indeed, I believe the English maiden lady can claim to be the chief exponent of the sniff in all its varied effects. Still, we have a sufficient number of sniffers here to illustrate our point. There are the delicate little modest sniffs that hope they won't be heard, the sharp persistent sniff that punctuates the conversation, the vicious noisy sniff that stamps its perpetrator as a man of spleen, and the large, loose, rumbling sniff—snoosers and unsnoosers. And they are all naughty little habits having nothing whatever to do with a cold in the head. The man with a real cold in his head does his sniffs shyly on the quiet.

Spitting, too, is merely an objectionable habit; no other people but Americans tolerate spitting in public society. I don't suppose there is anything quite so appallingly unromantic as to see a well-dressed woman clear her throat noisily and expectorate unashingly. This is essentially one of the things that should be done strictly in private when it is done at all. A public cuspidor in a conspicuous position. The visiting stranger gapes at it in horror and wonders what low quarter of the town he can have happened upon.

And don't we all know the nudger? This is really one of the most tiresome little habits to come across. The person who insists upon punctuating his or her remarks with a knowing little nudge. It is most disconcerting and claims no intimacy with you that you repudiate most heartily.

A very general naughty little habit is that of picking the heads off pimples. This has a perfectly irresistible fascination for some people, and even at the expense of their own beauty, of comes their head. And there are people, indeed, who can resist making a little slit into a big one. A hole in the face in the proximity of most people proves a fatal attraction, and claim their attention as you may, the finger instinctively wanders towards that hole and wiggles and wiggles until the damage is beyond repair.

We all know the people who simply cannot pass the table or sidewalk without picking at the food thereon; the gum-chewers who, under the pretense that it is good for digestion, work their mouths about in comical contortions; the tobacco-chewers, odious and claiming no reason; and those who are forever moistening their lips.

Then there are the people who always must skip one portion of their ablutions, sometimes it's their ears, sometimes their arms above the elbow—not through uncleanliness, for they will overwash other portions of their anatomy, but from sheer force of habit.

And the people that simply must wipe their fingers down their trousers—or skirts. This is more particularly noticeable on the golf links and the tennis courts. It is quite laughable to watch refined young men cool their hands on the cold cement and promptly proceed to dust their hands and trousers. In soft, after making the mud test, they indulge in the same manner—and any golf or tennis man's apparel that has been once worn will show the unmistakable signs of this naughty little habit.

There are other people who simply must play with their hair. Run their fingers through it, smooth it, pat it, or scratch their heads. It is an unconquerable habit with nine women out of ten—their hands wander instinctively to their hair on any and every occasion.

Flirting can soon become a very pronounced habit. This is marked in England and worse in France. Very few Englishmen and no Frenchmen can help flirting at every opportunity; it comes as natural to them as taking nourishment. Americans are quite different in this respect. Their flirting is deliberate, with business intentions. Otherwise they don't flirt. I think it is rather a pity, for, for flirting can be such a good game if the rules are adhered to.

The slang habit is dreadfully catching. Started in an unsullied community, it will spread the length and breadth of the town more quickly than the plague. In vain will nice-minded mamma point out to their refined daughters the exceeding unwholesome and vulgarity of slang—the next thing poor mamma knows she has herself blossomed forth with "My dear," we are positively up against it. Mildred will be utterly side-tracked in decent society if she persists in using slang in this manner and she must really be made to cut it out.

The Parvenu Husband.

[St. Louis Globe-Democrat:] John Collier, the secretary of New York's Board of Moving-picture Censors, said the other day: "It's no good getting up objectionable picture plays. We never pass them. In fact, we turn them down so invariably that it seems to me the composers of such plays are animated by the spirit of perversity. They remind me of old Uncle Jethro Hunk." "Uncle Jethro" sat fishing on the bank of a tiny rivulet, when a stranger stopped beside him and said: "Is it possible that there are any fish in such a small stream as that?" "No, there ain't none," Uncle Jethro grunted.

"But you're fishing?" "Yep," said Uncle Jethro. "Where then, in your object?" "My object," said Uncle Jethro, "is to show my wife I ain't got no time to sift the ashes."

Timely Advice

A Protection Against Bronchitis and Pneumonia.

Into a pitcher put a tablespoonful of butter, one-quarter cup light brown sugar, an ounce of fresh, whole allspice and a pint of Duffy's pure malt whiskey. Let it stand for half an hour, then add one-half pint boiling water. Let it stand again for a short while, and before serving stir well and add the juice of one orange and one lemon. This is to be served in a wine glass.

It is very wholesome, appetizing and strengthening, especially for fever and chills in stormy and blustering weather. Prompt action on such occasions will ward off many a serious and oft times fatal attack of bronchitis and pneumonia, as well as irritating coughs and colds.

MAN FALLS DEAD IN STREET.

Citizen of Fresno Is Stricken While Waiting for Car to Take Him to a Funeral.

FRESNO, Nov. 26.—While leaning against a telegraph pole at the corner of Fresno and Belmont avenues this morning, waiting for a street car to take him to the funeral of a woman, who died yesterday, Canterbury Anderson, a local power company employee, suddenly fell dead of heart failure. Life was extinct before the coroner arrived.

A daughter, riding on a street car a few blocks distant, was told by a woman on the car that a man had just dropped dead on the street. With grave misgivings the girl hurried to the scene to discover that the corpse was that of her father. Anderson was apparently in the best of health.

M'NAY DASHED TO AWFUL DEATH

Los Angeles Boy Killed at Savannah.

Tries to Avoid Wagon and Car Turns Turtle.

Joe Dawson Also Seriously
Hurt in Wreck.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAVANNAH (Ga.) Nov. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jay McNay, the California boy driving the Case White Streak is dead and H. F. Maxwell, his mechanic, is lying in the hospital seriously and perhaps fatally injured. Joe Dawson, Marmon pilot, is also in the hospital seriously hurt, while three racing cars lie on the course heaps of scrap iron as the result of the first day's practice for the "Carnival of Speed" to be staged here next week.

McNay was dashing around the "T" death turn in his Case racer at a terrific clip just as a wagon driven by an old southern dandy appeared. He turned suddenly to one side to avoid the wagon and his car went off the course and for fifty yards ploughed up young trees.

Then the machine turned sideways and jack-knifed itself around a huge oak that stood by the course. McNay's chest was crushed and when Hughie Hughes, who was following his side, McNay was dead. Maxwell, his mechanic, lay in a pool of blood and water fifty feet away. His face was terribly lacerated. His right arm broken in three places and his shoulder fractured.

Dawson's accident happened just beyond Hesperia Turn. He was riding as mechanician for Joe Nikrent of Los Angeles, when the Marmon car skidded and hit a big oak tree. Two Mercedes cars, following close behind, one driven by Billy Knipper and the other by W. F. Barnes, both hit the Marmon broadside and Dawson was pinned between them. He was severely bruised on the body, and his arm terribly mangled. Nikrent was badly shaken up.

M'NAY'S CAREER.

McNay drove in the races at the motorrome in Los Angeles last winter. In the twenty-four-hour race he finished first in the small-car class. He also won races at the Oakland motorrome and was mechanician in the HARVARD FACULTY COMES OUT ON TOP.

In one of the fastest basketball games of the season the Harvard faculty team put it over on the L. A. pedagogues by the score of 24 to 21. The Harvard men uncorked a big bunch of "pop" in the beginning of the game and with perfect team work took the lead. Wilson and Green, at forwards, did some brilliant work, and were able to elude the guards so regularly that at the end of the first half they had chalked up 25 to 11 for the loaves.

The Los Angeles team started the second period with a changed line-up, which proved to be better in every way, for they not only kept their opponents' score down, but managed to do some of the basket ringing themselves. They totaled ten points to their rivals' eight on this half.

A return game will be played in two or three weeks and in the meantime both teams have arranged other games. The intermediate teachers will be played by the Los Angeles team. Thursday night at the Polytechnic "gym," while the Manual Arts faculty have also asked for a game, which will be played some time next week.

MAY BATTLE HERE FOR WORLD'S POLO HONORS.

Crack Teams of India, Country Where Game
Originated, Question Harry Payne Whitney's Right to Title and Would Come 10,000 Miles to Contend for the Championship on California Turf.

BY R. A. WYNNE.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA may become the scene of the international polo matches to decide the world's championship for next year.

A movement has been started with that end in view and, strange to say, it came from the other side of the earth. Col. Cooch Behar H. H. Maharajah Sir Nripendra Narayan Bhup Bahadur of Bengal, India, one of the wealthiest young princes of India, together with the Maharajah of Patiala, Bhupindra Singh, another wealthy Indian prince, who are both among the greatest polo players in India, the home of polo, have formed their belief that Harry Payne Whitney's Meadowbrook team, which holds the world's championship, is not as good as their native teams, and that they would like to compete in the next international matches.

Col. Cooch Behar has written to Maj. Colin G. Ross, secretary of the Coronado Country Club and one of the best polo players in Western America, stating their desire to come to America to play in the international matches, but regretting the necessity of traveling almost 17,000 miles with their ponies and their team members and then playing in a climate and at a time of the year when the weather is cold and they will not be at their best.

Col. Cooch Behar lately inquired whether it would not be possible to have international matches held in California, where the climate is more similar to that of Bengal, and where the polo fields have practically the same turf that is in India. He also set forth the fact that the India team and their ponies could save 7000 miles by coming direct to California instead of going through England and across the Atlantic to New York and the Meadowbrook Club grounds.

SAVER TRAVEL.

This would mean that the Whitney team would have but 2000 miles to come and would be able to play in a summer climate. The East Indians are of the opinion that the 17,000-mile journey through England and then to New York is prohibitive, but they believe that if the Meadowbrook and the English teams come to California they will be able to compete with them upon what would be practically even conditions.

The best-informed polo players are of the belief that the real world's championship in polo cannot be determined correctly unless these East Indian teams are considered. Harry Payne Whitney is also of this belief, and, while he believes that his crack Meadowbrook team can defeat the pick of India, he thinks that they should have a chance to compete.

Whitney himself has been in California several times, and believes that some of the best polo fields in the world are in Southern California. He also says that the climate of midwinter in this section is ideal for polo. He has considered several times bringing his team here for winter games.

POLO BEGAN IN INDIA.

The perfection to which the game of polo has been brought in India, where the game originated, is shown when it is known that the native East Indian teams almost always defeat the crack English teams, and it is from these latter teams that the challenging English team was selected. So it would seem that the claim of the East Indians as being better players than the present champions has some foundation in fact.

Marshal D. Taylor of Los Angeles, who has played polo for Tippuk and the Doon Doona teams, two of the crack polo-players teams of North Lakshimpur, Assam, is familiar with Col. Cooch Behar as a polo player. In speaking about polo in India, Mr. Taylor said: "Cooch Behar is perhaps done more for outdoor sports in India than any man living. Patiala runs him a close second, but the latter Maharajah devoted more time and money to horse racing than to polo. If Cooch Behar, Patiala, Karputhala and Jodhpore visit California, it is safe to say that polo will be given such a stimulus that it will never die, but live throughout the ages."

"Polo had its origin in Manipur, an independent native State bordering the great Assam Valley, India. From time immemorial this game has been played by the Manipuris and even by the people of far distant Tibet. It

AD GAMBOLS ABOUT RING.

High Jinks Mark First Day of Champ's Training.

Camp Doyle Scene of Rough-and-Tumble Show.

Conley on Hand Little the Worse for Bout.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon a fair-sized crowd of fight fans were milling around the Doyle training camp, waiting for the Champ, Ad Wolgast, to show up and train for his fight with Walsh on Thanksgiving. Ad was very late, and while the gang was waiting some impromptu handball games were pulled off, and they were good at that, though very ragged.

At 4 o'clock the champion came tearing in to the place in a auto, breaking all the speed records of Vernon. He was greeted with much effusion by the fans, but before he could say three words, was grabbed by Tom Jones, who dragged him to the quarters and began to undress him. This Jones party is a rough chambermaid. A roll was raised over the shoes which Wolgast was to do his training in, the soles were worn and the heels run over. Jones grabbed on the foot outfit while Wolgast said he was wearing old shoes to save money.

"If you are going to save money, don't buy so much gasoline for that darn old shag wagon," said Jones, "and for the love of Mike be reasonable about the foot stuff; this is rotten."

After a great deal of month work on the part of everybody in the place, Wolgast got busy on the handball court, where they went through a great many motions without playing much handball. At the end of fifteen minutes the score stood 17 all in favor of Hobo. Hobo should have won the game, as he was forced to chase all the balls that Wolgast knocked out of the court.

As time was called, after the handball stuff, Wolgast took a flying leap and landed on top of Dougherty's back, just to show that he was feeling like a "kink." As he was mauling the Hobo around, Jones baited in and bumped the boys' heads together, and it was a good crack.

PILE ON JONES.

They then both piled on Jones and gave him a good rubbing, but the heavyweight manager put up a great fight before he was pushed into the terra firma and the gravel kicked over his bald dome. While Jones was getting the worst of it, a fan climbed into the rough and tumble farce and then all three climbed his frame. This latter party must have been a mule skinner, for he put up a stiff argument before the fighting "trio" got him smeared with mother earth.

This Wolgast-Jones lunch is a great combination. They fight among themselves like wildfire, but when anybody else butts in they all club together rather from force of habit than anything else.

This clown work was going on all day, and it looked as though Ad took training for a world's championship fight all one big, long joke. There was not a serious man on the place, and everybody was laughing from butt to ball.

After this grit had been rubbed from Tom Jones's ribs, the second of action was moved to the ring. Here the Champ was sent after the chest weights and pulled them in a lary manner for about five minutes.

The rope came next, and Ad gave a fancy exhibition with the whirling string, getting in all kinds of little cute stunts and "top stichings." All the time that Ad was working, Jones was picking the stones out of his clothes and handing the Hobo a cushion for rolling him. Jones seemed to blame Dougherty for everything yesterday. Maybe tomorrow it will be somebody else.

After the rope sketch, Gus Anderson was sent into the square to wrestle with the "king." They maulled each other around in green shape. Gus was handicapped by his height, as Ad was under him working up, and had the lanky Swede of his feet most of the time.

Ad seemed to be in great shape and looked as though he had been training on the side for some little time. Yesterday he went through a

HANSHUE UNDERGOES SERIOUS OPERATION.

Harris Hanshue, who was injured when his Mercer racing automobile crashed through the fence at the Phoenix track, is dangerously ill. He is at the hospital in Phoenix, and on Sunday physicians operated on the plucky driver and three immense splinters were removed from the wound in his leg. His temperature is high, and late last night his condition caused grave fears.

Watching at the bedside of her husband, Mrs. Hanshue refuses to leave the suffering man for an instant. Only Hanshue's wonderful constitution enables him to withstand the intense pain. When the car tore through the fence, large splinters from the boards were forced into his leg.

GARFORD CARS
CROSS DESERT.

Chug Through Devil's Canyon This Afternoon.

Autoists in Yuma Extend a Warm Welcome.

Due in San Diego Tonight, Where They Rest.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

Four Garford cars and a big Garford prairie schooner reached El Centro last night and will roll into Los Angeles Friday afternoon. The long cross-country auto tour will end in the city after the first day's drive over the desert. For the first time in motor history tourists who have paid to ride across the country in an automobile will reach their destination on a New York-to-Los Angeles tour.

A. L. Westgard, who is piloting the prairie schooner, will leave El Centro this morning for the run to San Diego. He will take the route across the sands and into Devil's Canyon in the same tracks which the Phoenix cars chopped through the wilderness. It will be the first time a touring car company has ever crossed the desert. There should be something doing every minute.

Bill La Caze, in the E.M.F., waited to drive the car as a pilot for the prairie schooner, but his services were not needed. The party was composed of Harry Stewart, president of the Browley Chamber of Commerce, and Charles Kaye, secretary of that body. C. J. Jekell, who has had charge of the construction work on the new route; H. L. Fulton, Jerome Aiken, George Wade, Earl C. Pond, Cecil Hunt, Harry Baum and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stanley.

The five miles of sandy road lying between the old beach line and Mammoth has been brushed by a force of thirty men and six teams, and portions of the route between Oily and Yuma have been receiving the attention of a force of men.

Though Westgard has never taken the route through the Browley coupe before he started into the wide stretches of desert, he was confident that the route was the best. The route is all-American. It is necessary to secure passports or to cross the Mexican line anywhere. It is expected that this route will be the most logical for tourists by automobile to Phoenix. Westgard has the complete data and the log of the trip and will have the mileage and other information for tourists.

Every car in the Garford party is in excellent shape. The eighteen tourists all declare they have had the time of their lives. They are coming to Los Angeles to see the beauties of the beach and have chosen the most direct way to see the sights.

PORTLAND MANAGER HIES TO BIG LEAGUE CAMPS.

Leader of Coast Change Will Visit St. Paul, Chicago, Cleveland, Louisville and St. Louis During "Golf Week" Trip and Expect to Do Some Trading.

PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Manager Walter McCredie left today for the East, where he goes for his annual conference with the management of the Portland club in an effort to land some new material for the Portland team.

The big manager will stop in Chicago to say hello to Charlie Comiskey, and also at St. Paul, where he intends to talk business with Charlie Leamon, owner of the St. Paul club. McCredie is after a trade of some sort there, but wouldn't say who he was after. Clavins will be the one to meet him at Louisville and St. Louis will be visited.

McCredie is figuring on trades with Louisville, St. Paul and Toledo in the American Association, and will also try to get some men from the St. Louis American, including Lefty George, a well-known southpaw. McCredie plans to return in about three weeks in order to be on the ground when construction of the new grand stand is commenced.

OLDFIELD MAY RACE FOR VANDERBILT CUP.

SAVANNAH (Ga.) Nov. 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Barney Oldfield, one-time king of the drivers on circular tracks but who has been for some time disbarred from the racing game by the edict of the recognized authority in automobilism, may come back.

Barney, who arrived in Savannah yesterday in his Hiltens Benz, has been offered the mount of a hundred-horsepower racing car by the Vanderbilt race, by the manufacturer of the Opel car, and says he will accept the offer if he can become reinstated by the American Automobile Association.

As Oldfield has been on his best behavior since his suspension, it is felt that the American Automobile Association will be disposed to take a favorable view of his application for reinstatement, and restore him to good standing, shortly.

DROPS OUT OF THE GAME FOR YEARS: ALIVE AGAIN.

After a Career of More Than a Hundred Ring Battles, He Went Down and Out in His Fight With Frankie Neil and Was Looked Upon As a Has Been.

BY RAY C. PEARSON.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—If Harry Forbes, former bantamweight champion and the greatest prizefighter who ever followed the route he is taking today, this is one of the fiercest drives ever undertaken and had it not been for the Phoenix road race Westgard would have routed the cars by way of Ehrenberg.

Front Brawley, a delegation of people went over the new route to Yuma last Saturday to await the arrival of the transcontinental tourists and to escort them back through Imperial county. This party was composed of Harry Stewart, president of the Browley Chamber of Commerce, and Charles Kaye, secretary of that body. C. J. Jekell, who has had charge of the construction work on the new route; H. L. Fulton, Jerome Aiken, George Wade, Earl C. Pond, Cecil Hunt, Harry Baum and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stanley.

The five miles of sandy road lying between the old beach line and Mammoth has been brushed by a force of thirty men and six teams, and portions of the route between Oily and Yuma have been receiving the attention of a force of men.

Though Westgard has never taken the route through the Browley coupe before he started into the wide stretches of desert, he was confident that the route was the best. The route is all-American. It is necessary to secure passports or to cross the Mexican line anywhere. It is expected that this route will be the most logical for tourists by automobile to Phoenix. Westgard has the complete data and the log of the trip and will have the mileage and other information for tourists.

Every car in the Garford party is in excellent shape. The eighteen tourists all declare they have had the time of their lives. They are coming to Los Angeles to see the beauties of the beach and have chosen the most direct way to see the sights.

ABE ATTELL SHOWS CLASS.

Willie Jones Never Has a Chance to Win.

Baldwin and Mandot Battle Ends in Draw.

Young O'Leary Again Beats Joe Wagner.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) ABE ATTELL lived up to his reputation as the cleverest little fighter in the ring tonight, when he defeated Willie Jones of Brooklyn at the Olympic Athletic Club.

Seldom has ABE displayed better form than tonight. He was master at all stages and had the better of every round but the seventh.

Young O'Leary was too clever for Wagner and nearly every time Joe tried to shift, O'Leary stepped in with a left-hand jab, and hooked his right to the jaw.

BATTLING HURLEY PUTS JERRY GAINES AWAY. PITTSFIELD (Mass.) Nov. 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) BATTLING HURLEY of Glens Falls put Jerry Gaines of New York away in the third round of a ten-round bout tonight before the Pastime Athletic Club.

Hurley had things all his own way from the start, reaching Gaines' jaw early in the first round. Hurley was about twenty pounds heavier than Gaines.

MATTY BALDWIN FIGHTS JOE MANDOT TO DRAW. MEMPHIS (Tenn.) Nov. 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) JOE MANDOT, the southern aspirant to the light-weight title, was defeated by Matty Baldwin of Boston, who fought eight fast rounds to a draw tonight before the Southern Athletic Club.

Mandot had Baldwin's mouth bleeding in the third round and had an edge in the fourth round, but he was out of his mind in the fifth round, when Baldwin finished strong.

SANTA MONICA BEATS LOS ANGELES AT HOCKEY. A splendid team work and greater experience, the finer points of the game, the Santa Monica Hockey Club beat Los Angeles by ten goals to three, at Vineyard.

In this, the first exhibition match, the play throughout was keen, at times brilliant. H. Blake, an Irish international hockey player, acted as referee. So clear was the play that only three hits had to be blown his whistle for "sticks," once for a "foul," and four times for off-side.

Head and shoulders above all the other players for brilliancy of play, stood Neil Nettleship, the Santa Monica captain. Out of a total of ten goals scored by his side, Nettleship hit five of his own sticks. In addition, he was a fox terrier after a rat. Nettleship followed the ball. He dribbled it worked it gently into position, and when the opportunity arose, deftly passed it to one of his teammates, who either shot a goal or placed it in a favorable position, for Ketchum, F. J. Dwyer or Childwick to score.

H. Mansfield, captain of the locals, won the toss. Mackie of Los Angeles and Nettleship of Santa Monica "battled-off." The beach team by a concerted effort rushed the sphere to the local's goal, and came within near scoring, but Mansfield balked them by superb play. Ketchum and the beach captain got the ball and kept it in their hands until they were able to shoot a goal.

Pouncing made things extremely interesting for the visitors by his quick passing and dribbling. When crowded by the locals, he was able to pass the ball to one of his teammates, who either shot a goal or placed it in a favorable position, for Ketchum, F. J. Dwyer or Childwick to score.

Is Pomona good? Well, rather. Last Saturday afternoon the Stanton Sage Hens gave the greatest exhibition of speed and open style of football ever seen in the South since the game has been going on in the sunny clime.

It would be a good bet to put these fast boys up against any of the middle western teams because they would make good without a doubt. The Occidental Tigers are not an easy proposition, by any means, but Saturday they were easily defeated. The Sage Hens first whistle to the last and were defeated by the worst score that has fallen to the lot of the Presbyterians for eight years.

The showing made by the Claremonters Saturday made a game with an outside team possible for the fifth of December. On that date the University of Utah will probably be brought to Los Angeles for the final battle of the season.

Manager Jones of Pomona is now figuring for a game with the Claremonts on the fifth of December, which is the date of the Thanksgiving game. He should give the friends from the Rocky Mountains a time of their lives with the speed and great open style for eight years.

If this game is finally arranged it will give the football fans of the city a chance to see the new American football in its infancy. The game has never turned out in the South-Pomona—and against the Utah men the affair should take on all kinds of class.

Owing to the fact that a State championship game will be played on December 10, the game between the all-star game which Pat Higgins was getting up will be laid on the table for the time being.

Manager Howard of U.S.C. said yesterday that he would rather see the Los Angeles High School team playing for a title on the holiday than an all-star game, which in most cases does not always turn out according to expectations.

The Berkeley team is one of the best ever turned out by a prep school, and the Stanford team is one of the best in the country. They resemble the I.A. team of last year in that they have a bunch of heavy forwards with several capable men in the back field.

The contest will be very interesting, for the conditions are exactly the reverse of last season. The heavy team of last year was supposed to shine in brilliant back-field work, while the I.A. were famous for their powerful scrum. The heavy team was by blocking everything that the fast backs got started, and in the second half put across two tries of their own.

This year the south will be represented by one of the lightest football teams ever turned out of the local high schools. It is a question whether they can still pull off the passing rushes against the heavier opposition.

The game will be played at Bonaventure field, as that is the only close-in field that is wide enough for the English game, and the bleachers should be taxed to their limit. As the teams are sure to put up a classy exhibition.

Bankos River, and picked the captured wild one near by bungalow, before marching them to the capital of his State.

"At post-prandial, pie-sticking and all sorts of horseplay, the natives of the princely of India have no equal. Fearless, dashing, splendidly mounted, they present a picture that is not readily forgotten. The crack military and civilian teams have hard work to keep pace with some of the natives."

the work that a pugilist or a Marathon runner performs in getting into condition; a large portion of that work may be injudicious, even injurious, just as his final contest is a heavy draft on his future store of health and strength; but the fact remains that he must condition himself if he is to succeed.

Why is it that the business man does not realize until too late the folly of entering into a competition for which he is physically unprepared? Especially when in his case the training is not arduous but pleasant, being wholly unattended with any of the results which are so apt to follow the excessive training for the extreme effort required in specialized athletics. The untrained business man is bound to succumb, and usually at a critical moment in his worldly affairs when he, or his family, or his associates can least afford it. The carefully trained business man, who keeps just on the edge of condition, can, on the contrary, in times of stress, call on his immense reserve and perform with but fatigue, mental and physical, which would put his unprepared rival in the hospital or the insane asylum.

Harry Lord is planning to meet that ocean-to-ocean Garford cavalcade at San Diego on Thursday. The tourists will be royally treated in the southern city and will be sent on their way to this city Friday morning. They should reach here about 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

What a glorious season for polo is promised this winter in Southern California. There will be fully nine great teams competing in the tournaments to be played at Pasadena and Coronado. There will be one English team, a Coronado team, a Canadian team, two Bahian teams, a Bahian team, a team, a team, and at least two and perhaps four United States army teams.

Joe Ollier is housed in his handsome stateroom on East Seventh street. This move was a wise one, and was contemplated more than a year ago. The Olliers and the E.M.P. business has grown in leaps and bounds, and now a large number of machines will be kept constantly on hand. Joe means business, and big business, at that.

Charles Cotton is trying to do himself into his new quarters. The Locomobiles are housed in what was formerly the McCarty-Parker Auto Company's garage and salesroom on Eleventh and Flower streets. The location is ideal, the salesroom one of the handsomest in the city, and the change is just right, as the Los Angeles Motor Car Company chieftains now have a chance to show off their handsome line of cars.

Harvey Herrick has broken another record. This time it's a typewriter run. He wrote 240 words in 240 minutes and it was the story of his life. Well, I always did know Harvey was a scribbler, but strange to say, I have always forgotten to get him to write the typewriter for me. Every time I tried he was affected with writer's cramp. Well, maybe driving that National over the desert and taking that cut-off limbered up his fingers. At least it put a crimp in Roger Stearns. Let's keep our eyes open. Harvey may write another only story. It will be the story of how he was conquered by Cupid. Of course he will use the typewriter. Why, he's great on a machine.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN AND MEN
BY OLIVE GRAY

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: The corset has more to do with the appearance of a woman than has any other article of dress. To wear a corset which brings out the best points of your figure and which eliminates the worst features of your anatomy, which enables you to wear your clothes with grace and which does not restrict your movements or cause injury of any kind to your health—this is a matter which necessitates much thought and consideration.

The Strollers took one of their long strolls recently, and after spending a part of the day amid the beauties of the city, they stopped at a little Japanese village, near the Long Beach pier.

They heard that there was a Japanese garden concealed there, and they determined to make a search for it, as their lunch had long ago vanished, and they felt in need of some kind of refreshment which was not ginger ale.

They "relocated around" until they discovered a small building which they entered, and they looked for tea.

It was the quaintest, oddest place imaginable. There was a tiny pond—just about big enough for a goldfish and a tiny stream and a Japanese little scene arranged in miniature and plants and vines were trained in the most strange and "different" ways. At small tables the waiters were served with really good tea and wafers and when they came to pay the bill, it was as modest as all the surroundings.

They found that "Who-Paya-Who" had added something to it "just for luck," as she said.

As they strolled along their way, with renewed energy, the Strollers noticed that the people in the many automobiles which passed that way did not seem to know about the quaint garden and its inexpensive refreshments.

Imported Colours.

I happened to be in one of the shops just as the head of a department brought up an armful of imported colors in German, French and other kinds of lace, which was waiting on sale at real bargain prices.

There were two of us and we had a good time in looking over these new colors, and I may say that we secured the opportunity of securing some very handsome Christmas gifts at prices which we mean to keep as long as we can.

Some of the things we saw, too, if you have a chance, you that you can't find a long time and not find them for Christmas which will be available in price and which will give you genuine satisfaction to give to your girl friends as will these new and old.

One of the most things in collars, by the way, to see with tailored or dressy collars are those in macramé. They are expensive or woven—I do not know which, but perhaps you will have made up your mind as to whether you will have one or not. The "twine" which they are made is really "woven" in color—that is the fashionable name for this season, you know—and the "old" metallic shades.

Some of getting your laces changed, this season, you must have changed, remarked the girl. And she was right—she must be "just" as "old"—and soiled like all the "professionally" soiled, perhaps you might say. But anyhow, she must have a wonderfully good one, and if you mean to spend a few dollars for a gift for a girl, why not buy something of the kind?

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.
BY SYDNEY FORD.

All the candidates for City Council put up by Good Government forces were on hand at the Woman's City Club yesterday, but only five of the Socialists candidates responded to the invitation of the president to let themselves be seen and heard by the feminine voters who constitute the membership of this organization.

For a solid hour and a half these fourteen candidates entertained the women. In order to be absolutely impartial in the way of precedence, Mrs. Lobinger called upon the candidates in the alphabetical order of their names—with one exception. The president of the Council, Robert M. Lusk, was invited to start the ball rolling; after that the speeches were given in the order above named.

Once during the session, the women became so excited that they let loose their emotions in cries of "No, no."

That was when A. J. Mooney, Socialist candidate, charged that Representative Gates, Hewitt and Hurd fought against women in the recent Legislature. For a few minutes there was such a commotion that the speaker could not make himself heard and the president rapped the gavel for order and reminded the women that courteous attention was a duty they owed to the club which claims to be "non-partisan" and to "reserve judgment."

There were charges and counter charges—a plenty and occasionally considerable excitement swept over the 500 or more women who crowded the room. At one point, a woman Socialist arose and asked the speaker to back up his statement by giving the name of his authority, which he promptly did by answering "Alexander Irvine."

The woman subsided.

Several of the candidates used up quite a few of the precious seven minutes allotted them in tossing bouquets to the women, concerning their beauty, grace, etc. It remained for Councilman Belkouski to make a tremendous hit by absolutely refraining from this sort of persuasion, philosophically explaining that he would use his time by getting right down to brass tacks—a sentiment which brought out a round of applause, waving of handkerchiefs and even gentle huzzas.

The Socialist party was represented by C. F. Grow, A. J. Mooney, Fred C. Wheeler, T. W. Williams and Frank E. Wolfe. They thrashed out the same propositions which the Socialists have presented to the public: time and again from platform and their printed pamphlets. They re-lit the challenge to the San Fernando syndicate to meet them on any public platform and discuss the aqueduct proposition; they reminded the women that it was through their votes and those of the labor union that Los Angeles voted for suffrage.

"We gave you 75 per cent. of the votes that carried suffrage October 21," declared Mooney. "We beat the Good Government three to one in granting suffrage."

Daring one or two slight passages at arms, the utmost good nature prevailed throughout the meeting between the speakers for both parties. Some amusing things occurred. Just as Wheeler closed his impassioned speech in favor of Socialism, the temporary platform on which he stood showed signs of weakness and he recovered.

marked "This platform is like that on which our friends of the Good Government stand—it's wobbly."

Quick as a flash the president, Mrs. Lobinger, replied as she arose and stood for a moment in his place while she called the next speaker: "This platform's all right—if you know how to use it," and she stood erect and firm before the audience. This called out loud applause and laughter.

It is evident that quite a large number of women favoring the Socialist ticket are members of the club, judging from the frequent loud applause which indicated approval of Socialist sentiments. The hotel waitresses who had served the luncheon, remained to hear the speeches, gathering in a group at the rear of the audience and they vigorously applauded at these points.

T. W. Williams, Socialist candidate, announced that a scurrilous document has been circulated charging him with being a Mormon and an advocate of free love. Turning to the row of nine Councilmen sitting in a row, he checked his fist at them and shouted: "I hurl that charge back into your teeth. I have a wife that I wouldn't trade for all whole bunch," sweeping his arms over the audience of women.

That settled it and every woman there silently indicated the excited orator from the charge.

Going on, Williams charged that there is a monumental conspiracy going on to trap the aqueduct in San Fernando Valley—"a scheme hatched by the S. P. and a big bunch of financiers," he declared, and he referred the women to look up sections 131 and 132 of the State laws which he claims are "jokers." In that they take away the right of the city water.

At the close of the session, Mrs. Lobinger announced that William Mulholland will speak before the club next week on the aqueduct and a slight of satisfaction, swept over the 500 women as they saw a chance of getting information from the fountain head of knowledge concerning this much-abused aqueduct.

Italy Round Popular Pastor.

The women of Hamilton Methodist Church gave a chicken pie dinner last Friday night which was a wonderful success. A large number of former parishioners of the pastor, Dr. Will A. Knight, attended in a body, representing from Vincent, Union Avenue, Prospect Park, Grace, University, Boyle Heights, Vermont Avenue Square, and the First Methodist Church where Dr. Knight preached for years ago, and one couple present were members of his church when he was in Indiana. These guests occupied a special table presided over by Dr. and Mrs. Knight. The society netted about $50 from the affair.

Women's Society Receives.

The Women's Work Society tendered a reception to the pastors and officers of the First Congregational Church last Friday evening in the parish house of the church when a very large number of members and friends assembled and a delightful social time was enjoyed. This society is preparing for a bazaar to be held on the afternoon and evening of December 12.

Methodist Missionary Rally.

There will be a rally of the Methodist Women's Foreign Missionary Society next Friday at the First Methodist Church when reports will be given from delegates returned from the recent general executive meeting in St. Louis. Mrs. Charles Edwards Locke will preside in the forenoon and Mrs. Matt S. Hughes in the afternoon and the speakers will include Mrs. Eva Brand of Korea, Dr. Rachel Bent of China, beside the following returned delegates: Mrs. Lulu M. Frey of Panama, Mrs. Belle T. Johnson of San Pedro and Mrs. Lucie Harrison of Pasadena.

Some Interesting Programmes.

J. F. Kanst will give an art talk illustrated by paintings this morning before the Highland Park Ebell Club, and Miss Elizabeth Ewing will be heard in several piano solos.

Tomorrow afternoon Miss Eleanor Miller will give a dramatic reading of "Madame Butterfly" before the Wednesday Club. This will be Miss Miller's first appearance before a Los Angeles audience.

This afternoon the Dramatic Committee of the Friday Morning Club will entertain with the presentation of the late Walter Browne's "Everywoman." The first act will be given by children of the Egan School and the remaining four acts will be delivered by Miss Helene Sullivan of the Moroco-Blackwood Company.

Tomorrow afternoon the Cosmos Club will celebrate reciprocity day with an elaborate musical programme given by the Sierra Male Quartette, assisted by Mrs. Bernando C. Lee, piano soloist.

Mrs. Caro Senour of Hollywood will entertain the Ebell Club at its regular meeting December 4 with one of her delightful programmes and the following week will be the guest of the Redlands Contemporary Club.

IN GURN GARATH SAHIB.

Hindus Pledge Their Faith Refusing to Swear Upon the Bible—Novel Case Before Justice.

Six natives of Hindu faith refused to swear upon the Bible or subscribe to the regulation oath in Justice Forbes' court yesterday afternoon. They insisted that the justice let them pledge their faith to the following:

"You do solemnly swear upon your faith in Gurn Garath Sahib, and under the penalty of the laws of California, and of being degraded from your caste of Bekh, if you testify falsely, that in this suit you will speak the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you Gurn Garath Sahib."

Justice Forbes would repeat this in English to each witness, the interpreter would say it after him in his native tongue, and then the witness would repeat it. The ceremony consumed much time, and was the feature of an action for debt that had other novel points.

Amesinger swore that Nazarasim borrowed $165 of him some months ago and has since refused to pay it. The latter was not in court, being too busy engaged in picking grapes near Ontario. He thought it was not necessary for him to be on hand when his case was tried. The plaintiff said the other witnesses, also grape pickers, were there, some of them have come from Ontario, and one from San Jose.

The attorney for the defense asked for a continuance, but the court refused to consent to it unless the expenses of the case to date, were paid by the defendant. That called for almost $50. The attorney not caring to pay out such a sum for his client, consented to proceed, it being first stipulated that the defendant would testify that he never borrowed a cent from the plaintiff. The plaintiff recovered.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.
BY SYDNEY FORD.

All the candidates for City Council put up by Good Government forces were on hand at the Woman's City Club yesterday, but only five of the Socialists candidates responded to the invitation of the president to let themselves be seen and heard by the feminine voters who constitute the membership of this organization.

For a solid hour and a half these fourteen candidates entertained the women. In order to be absolutely impartial in the way of precedence, Mrs. Lobinger called upon the candidates in the alphabetical order of their names—with one exception. The president of the Council, Robert M. Lusk, was invited to start the ball rolling; after that the speeches were given in the order above named.

Once during the session, the women became so excited that they let loose their emotions in cries of "No, no."

That was when A. J. Mooney, Socialist candidate, charged that Representative Gates, Hewitt and Hurd fought against women in the recent Legislature. A Message —To the man who thinks he has "no prospects;"—to the man who is always waiting for something to "turn up," for his luck to change;—to the man who regards it as useless to save money because it would "take too long."

THE foundation of every honest fortune that has ever been made in this country was the result of hard work and economy.

Study the big men of affairs and almost without exception you will find that their money has been made by saving and by judicious investment.

It isn't so much the amount you start with, but rather, the determination to save something each week or month. Once you have acquired the saving habit, you will find that you are able to gradually increase the amount.

With money in the Bank you will find that you are in a position to take advantage of good investment opportunities occasionally (that otherwise would slip by you)—that you are able to profit by that "something" when it does "turn up"—that your money is constantly working for you—and that in a very few years you will have a comfortable little fortune.

It's the "constant running of water that wears away the stones" and it's the steady, persistent saving of money which accumulates a competency.

This strong Bank offers you safety, convenience and a good rate of interest. We pay 4 per cent. interest on Term Savings Accounts—which is really more than 4 per cent. as the interest is computed semi-annually and interest paid upon the interest thus accumulated.

Accounts may be opened here with any amount, from $1.00 upward. START SAVING NOW.

Parades in Ordinances for Industrial Districts.

Give 'Em Two Names, but Still All the Same Kind.

Lumber Yard Controversy Is Real Gordian Tangle.

Following the decision by the City Council relative to the passing of one ordinance to remain in effect and another to be repealed, a general ordinance to the contrary, Deputy City Controller Nimmo yesterday asked for a continuance of the cases against the J. W. Heller Lumber Company and the Chicago Mill and Lumber Company. Police Judge Williams of the University Police Court postponed the hearing two weeks.

The Council will wrestle with the decision this morning, and will take up the bill of legal fiction that calling one thing by a new name makes it something different, as a possible solution.

The officers of the lumber companies are being prosecuted in the Police Court for not having moved their lumber yards from the residence district. An order to do so was given some time ago. The companies refused and fought the order in the courts, claiming that their yards were not a menace to the public health, morals or safety, and consequently could not be restricted to the residence district.

The validity of the ordinance was also attacked on the ground that it was unconstitutional, but the Superior Court sustained the ordinance, and the case was taken to the Supreme Court, where it now awaits the filing of briefs.

SPECIAL LEGISLATION.

Last Friday the Council held a public hearing at which the lumber-yard ordinance was read. It was then proposed that the Council should pass an ordinance to permit certain lumber yards to remain in the present location. One point advanced by those opposing the ordinance is that it is a violation of the constitution, which provides that no law shall be passed which shall take effect until it has been passed by a majority of the Council.

If the general ordinance is amended so that it will apply to all cases, the Council will have to pass an ordinance to permit certain lumber yards to remain in the present location. One point advanced by those opposing the ordinance is that it is a violation of the constitution, which provides that no law shall be passed which shall take effect until it has been passed by a majority of the Council.

SPECIAL MASTER'S TASK.

Court Will Receive Application to Appoint One in Case Involving Tricks of Bankruptcy.

An application will be made to United States District Judge Wellborn today for the appointment of a special master to examine Herman D. Hertz, an alleged bankrupt, who, with a corporation, is conducting a lace store, on Hill street near Eighth.

Several months ago Hertz had two lace stores, one in New York, and the other in Brooklyn. His debts being pressing he went into bankruptcy and William Mayer was appointed trustee. It is alleged that Hertz only turned over a part of the goods in the two stores to the trustee, and that the larger and more valuable portion was boxed and shipped to Los Angeles.

Ten days ago Judge Wellborn, on the representations made to him that Hertz was trying to swindle his creditors, appointed W. H. Moore, auxiliary trustee, to take charge of the goods when they arrived. He located them in the store on Hill street, and took possession of lace, dresses, trimmings, and so forth, valued at about $500, and placed Herman D. Hertz and his brother, Marcus D. Hertz, in charge to sell the goods.

Before Moore took charge, an alleged stock company was organized to conduct the business with Marcus D. Hertz, the brother, president, and Herman D. Hertz, the bankrupt, secretary. The latter claims that he turned over all his goods to the New York trustee, and that the stock found in the store was purchased by his brother, Marcus D. Hertz, in New York, before he came West.

WARRANT ISSUED FOR ARREST OF ALLEGED OFFENDER.

Patrolman Buys Clothes and Other Articles Supposed to Be All Wool and Is Told by Expert They Are Not as Represented—Campaign Against Transient Jobbers.

The police and City Prosecutor began a campaign yesterday afternoon to rid the city of fake merchants, who have been swindling the public by selling almost worthless clothing at high prices.

Patrolman T. D. Robinson was sent to a sale, which is being conducted in an old building on South Spring street, with instructions to purchase what appeared to him the most grossly misrepresented and turn the goods over to an expert for an opinion. The result was that Deputy City Prosecutor Stafford issued a complaint for M. D. Herington yesterday afternoon and a warrant was immediately issued by Police Judge Rose for his arrest.

The complaint alleges that Herington offered $15 new suits, just unpacked and valued at $16, for $5.95; 50 cents, all-wool hose for 15 cents; men's 15 overcoats and cravettes, all wool, for $6.45.

Robinson purchased a blue serge suit, some hose, shirts and other articles, after having been assured that everything was all wool.

Stafford asked the opinion of a wool expert.

"We found that the blue serge suit resembled more of a dark blue denim with a 'furry' finish," Stafford said, "and the other articles were of about the same grade. The suit of clothes, I am told, is worth not over $2."

The complaint was issued under a San Francisco law passed two years ago, which has never been in effect in Los Angeles. The offense, which is declared by the law to exist when goods are not of the quality represented and below the grade which is so stated with the price, is a misdemeanor.

Mr. Herington declares that he is the victim of jealous business rivals.

To Higher Court.

The case against A. H. Kornblum and G. N. Florheim, who conduct the Berlin Dry Goods at Washington street and Griffith avenue, was continued two weeks by Police Judge Williams yesterday afternoon upon the filing of an affidavit by their attorneys that the case has been taken to the Supreme Court for a ruling. The complaint against the dry goods men is that they maintain a steam generating apparatus at their plant, which is in the residence district.

TRAFFIC RECORD.

FINDS TWO SIDES TO QUESTION.

Co-operation Desired Between Carrier and Producer.

Railway Official Points Out Why It's Essential.

Lovett and Ripley on Coast and Expected Here.

Co-operation between the various departments of railroad and steamship companies and between all departments and the public is urged in a speech made by W. H. Whalen, superintendent of the Los Angeles division of the Southern Pacific Railroad, at the semi-monthly luncheon of the Los Angeles Traffic Association, at the Anshelm Hotel yesterday.

"We are living in the very crucial time of transportation companies' existence for the reason that the pendulum has swung from one extreme back to the other. Now it is swinging back, the result of the sober second thought of the people, and it is for us to get in with them and find where the 'happy medium' is, because the carrier's welfare as well as the public's, is in the happy medium between the two extremes."

"With the rapid progress made since the advent of the locomotive it is no wonder that there has been misunderstanding. It was practically impossible to keep the proper equilibrium without landmarks, hence the strife between the people and the railroads. Prior to 1837 it was not profitable to till the soil as we see it now because there were no markets for the products. The settling of the transportation question made markets possible, and it was profitable then to till the soil and get from it its latent resources. It is only necessary to look around to see what the results have been, and it is not strange at all that matters become somewhat unbalanced, as the people did not comprehend the progress that was being made; that is, they did not realize what a complete revolution there was in conditions, that the old was completely wiped out by a new coming in. Hence we see for the first time the two great commercial factors, the carrier and the producer, each creating the other, and that we may appreciate the magnitude to which they have grown, I would cite the fact that it requires 50,000 locomotives to furnish power necessary to conduct transportation at the present time."

"In no place has this material development been as great as in Southern California and in as short a time. Its product is practically a perishable one, the market for which is off a long distance, and to make it high speed is necessary and this high speed is possible and safe only through the use of the automobile. But for this means of transportation, Southern California would yet be a desert. I believe that with intelligent co-operation on the part of the carrier and the producer greater material advancement can yet be made. It might be asked what bearing this has on the subject of co-operation. It enables one to see and show that there are two sides to the question; in short, that there is in every way an inter-dependence in the situation."

ANNUAL MEETING.

SALT LAKE'S DIRECTORATE.

At the annual stockholders' meeting of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company, at Salt Lake City yesterday, the following directors were re-elected: W. H. Bancroft, H. R. Bettis, R. S. Lovett, William Mahl, W. G. Craycroft, J. F. Storr, W. A. Clark, J. Ross Clark, W. H. Comstock, R. C. Kerens, Thomas Kerens and T. F. Miller. It was announced that the high line through the Meadow Valley wash in Nevada, built to avoid wash-outs, had been completed and turned over to the operating department.

At the annual meeting of the Tonopah and Los Vegas Railroad, William A. Clark, Charles O. Whittemore, David Keith, W. M. Clark, W. H. Comstock, J. Ross Clark and W. A. Clark, Jr., were elected directors.

CHIEFS ON COAST.

MAY MEET IN LOS ANGELES.

Two railroad leaders have arrived on the Pacific Coast almost at the same time, and both are expected to reach Los Angeles within a few days, although the plans of both are independent of the other. R. S. Lovett, executive heir of the late H. E. Harrington, reached Portland, while E. F. Ripley, head of the Santa Fe system, crossed the range south of Los Angeles.

President Ripley stopped off yesterday at Riverside, and Judge Lovett is now in San Francisco. The latter is touring the Harriman lines and will come to Los Angeles, accompanied by William Sproule, the new president of the Southern Pacific. President Ripley is on his way to his summer home at Santa Barbara.

New Routes Planned.

The Los Angeles Railway corporation will make effective a change in routing in cars on Sunday that will tend to slightly relieve the congestion on Main street. The Temple line cars will be turned back at First and Broadway, instead of continuing east to Los Angeles street, as at present. Another plan is to operate the Hooper and Griffin cars by new routes to avoid the congested district and give another route through the city.

On the Wing.

J. T. Clark, vice-president of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railroad, is due to arrive in Los Angeles Thursday. W. W. Woodhead, business manager of the Sunset Magazine, published by the passenger department of the Southern Pacific, was in Los Angeles yesterday. General Passenger Agent Batture, of the Southern Pacific, went to San Francisco last night.

Tunnel Signal Lights.

The Southern Pacific is installing automatic electric-lighting devices in all its tunnels to avoid accidents. By the new system the lights go on when a train approaches within 100 feet of a tunnel, warning pedestrians and giving the engineer plenty of light.

SEEK RELIEF FOR ALASKA.

Delegation From Seattle Chamber of Commerce Arrives Here Tomorrow to Present Conditions.

A delegation from the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, consisting of President Lowman, Secretary Vandell and Former United States Senator Wilson, will arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow morning and appear before the board of directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce with a view to enlisting the participation of the local body in a movement for the relief of Alaska.

Seattle is very injuriously affected by the stagnation in Alaska which it is claimed is through causes that can be remedied without interference with the political or conservation subjects that have been the subject of much controversy there. The Alaska people desire aid to navigation, nineteen shipwrecks having occurred along the Alaska coast in the last year. Lighthouses and buoys are demanded; land surveys are necessary in order that homeseekers may be able to find their land; reduction of the government cable tolls is also said to be essential. Salmon hatcheries are necessary along the coast to prevent the destruction of the fishing industry. Many other things are required which must be accomplished through governmental action.

LENDS MONEY ON STOLEN AUTO.

POLICE ARREST ALLEGED THIEF AND HOLD THE CAR.

Money Lender Fails to Report Having Made Loan on Machine and Warrant Is Issued for His Arrest—Number Had Been Changed, Causing Confusion.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of Theodore J. Welk, a money lender with offices in the Douglas building, yesterday afternoon, charging him with having failed to report to the police that he had taken an automobile as collateral security for a loan.

The offense is a misdemeanor, and the police declare they will push the prosecution to the utmost, because his alleged malfeasance made it difficult for them to apprehend C. W. Manning, who the police declare, stole the pledged machine in San Francisco about two weeks ago.

The machine is now in the basement of the Central Police Station, and has been identified as one sought by the Firemen's Fund Insurance Company. The San Francisco police in their communication requesting the arrest of Manning, failed to give the name of the owner. The State license list gives Dr. D. D. Chapman of Ross, Marin county, as the owner.

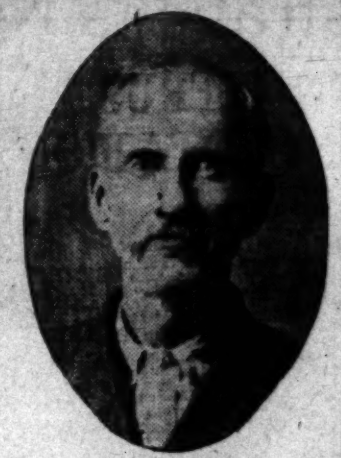

Manning, the police declare, had the machine repainted, and the number of the license transposed, so that in place of giving the true number, 32650, it bore the number, 52906. Joseph P. Giroux, living at No. 2645 West Washington street, possesses the automobile which bears the transposed number, and the duplication of the license plates, which Welk had accepted to secure a loan of $200.

The car was taken to the Police Station yesterday morning, and No. 42880 found on the motor, which answered the description telegraphed from San Francisco.

Manning was arrested at Third and Spring streets, and will be sent North for trial.

Though Welk and Manning are both defendants in criminal prosecutions, an effort will be made today to have them give depositions "telling" on each other.

Near Death's Door.

"I knew your Televida Treatment would cure me," said Mr. W. R. Harris. "I was on my way to the hospital to be operated upon and had given up all hope, when a friend of mine told me about you, and I called at once to see if you could cure me." Mr. Harris had a very bad case of liver trouble, accompanied by general dropsy. He was so bloated that his trousers would not come together within six inches at his waist line. This dropsical condition extended all over his system, causing intense misery and pain. He was almost dead, as he said. He could not sleep without binding a towel around his body, and then had to stand up most of the time. He was so weak that he could hardly get up the stairs. Mr. Harris went home today, and as he left the office he shook hands with the doctor and said: "They sent me to the hospital to die, but thanks to Televida, I am far from a dead man today. I wish that every one who is interested in Televida could have seen me the first day I came here and compare the way I look today. Why, I feel and look like a new man. The dropsy is gone, my liver is in a normal condition, I am able to lie down in bed and sleep easily all night. In fact, I feel fine."

Televida treatment is doing wonders for the sick and afflicted. This new treatment has been here but a few weeks and already scores of people have been restored to health. All chronic or acute diseases of men and women, cured to stay cured. Free consultation for thirty days. Call or write for information. Office hours, 9 to 12, 2 to 5 p.m. daily except Sunday; 10 to 12 noon. Evenings by appointment. Telephone Main 7571.

Uneeda Biscuit never disappoint!

You have never heard anyone say—"The Uneeda Biscuit in that last package were not as good as usual."

You have never said it yourself.

It is one thing to make soda crackers that are occasionally good.

It is quite another thing to make them so that they are not only always better than all other soda crackers, but always of unvarying goodness.

The name "Uneeda"—stamped on every one of them—means that if a million packages of Uneeda Biscuit were placed before you, you could choose any one of them, confident that every soda cracker in that package would be as good as the best Uneeda Biscuit ever baked.

5c a package—never sold in bulk.
